Psellos and the Patriarchs

Letters and Funeral Orations for Keroullarios,
Leichoudes, and Xiphilinos

MICHAEL PSELLOS

Translated by Anthony Kaldellis and Ioannis Polemis

“Learning, philosophy, complex theology, the call of monasticism, high politics, and deep intrigue make up the world of eleventh-century Byzantium. Michael Psellos belonged to this world and wrote about it in an engaging and gossipy way. His funeral orations on three patriarchs of Constantinople, together with some of his letters, shed much light on the detail of this period. The translators, who, by editing these works, rescued them from oblivion, have put the world of scholarship deeply in their debt.”

Ramus: Critical Studies in Greek and Roman Literature

A Journal of the Australian and New Zealand Academy of Management

Editors

A. J. Boyle, University of Southern California, USA

Helen Morales, University of California, Santa Barbara, USA

J. L. Penwill, La Trobe University, Australia

Ramus: Critical Studies in Greek and Roman Literature is a journal of innovative literary criticism aimed at new analysis and interpretation of ancient Greek and Roman literary texts. It is intellectually pluralist, and offers its pages to the full range of contemporary theoretical positions and methodologies from Marxism, feminism, postcolonialism and social anthropology, to narratology, deconstruction and reception studies. It is, however, a journal of criticism, not of theory, and it is primarily concerned with original and significant elucidation of ancient Greek and Roman authors.

Greece & Rome

Published for The Classical Association

Editors

John Taylor, Tonbridge School, UK

Vedia Izzet, University of Southampton, UK

Robert Shorrock, Eton College, UK

Greece & Rome is a journal which delivers scholarly research to a wider audience. It showcases original and informative articles on ancient history, literature, art, archaeology, religion, philosophy, and reception of the ancient world. Although its content reflects current research and its contributors include leading figures in the field, undergraduates and general readers who wish to be kept informed of current thinking will also find it engaging and accessible, as well as professional scholars in Classics and in other disciplines. With the wider audience in mind all Greek and Latin quotations are translated.

A subscription to Greece & Rome includes an annual supplement of New Surveys in the Classics.

The Journal of Roman Studies

Editor

Catherine W. E. Steel, University of Glasgow, UK

The Journal of Roman Studies (JRS) has appeared annually for a century, and is widely recognised as the premier UK journal in its field. Peer-reviewed papers on Roman history and Latin literature form the larger part of each issue. Papers on art history and archaeology are also published. JRS regularly includes major review articles and archaeological surveys, along with one of the widest selections of reviews of recent publications in all scholarly languages. The journal seeks to publish articles with wide implications for our understanding of the Roman world. JRS papers have stimulated debates in fields as diverse as Roman democracy, the scale of the Roman economy, the demographic implications of slavery, and the materiality of the book. Recent contributors have been drawn from all over Europe and North America. The journal has a wide international readership made up of scholars, students and members of the general public.
