ISI Tear Sheet Service, 3501 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104, USA, is authorized to supply single copies of separate articles for private use only.

For all other use, permission should be sought from Cambridge or the American Branch of Cambridge University Press.

Style. Intending contributors should ensure that their manuscripts conform to the standards laid down in the LSA Style Sheet (printed periodically in the LSA Bulletin), except in the following respects:

(a) Footnotes should as far as possible be avoided; they should not contain special symbols such as those used in the International Phonetic Alphabet.

(b) Phonetic transcriptions should, wherever possible, make use of the symbols and conventions of the International Phonetic Alphabet, and should be no 'narrower' than is absolutely necessary for the purpose.

(c) Bibliographical references at the end of each article or review should conform to the following models (titles of periodicals should be abbreviated as in Bibliographic Linguistique):

Bloomfield, L. (1993). Language. New York: Holt.

Bolinger, D. (1965). The atomization of meaning. Lg 41. 555-573.

Brugmann, K. (1906). Grundriss der vergleichenden Grammatik der indogermanischen Sprachen. 2nd ed., vol. 2, part 1. Strassburg: Trübner.

Chafe, W. L. (1965). Review of Longacre, R. E. Grammar discovery procedures. Lg 41. 640-647.

Chomsky, N. (1957). Syntactic structures. (Janua Linguarum, 4.) The Hague: Mouton.

Hockett, C. F. (1964). The Proto Central Algonquian kinship system. In Goodenough, W. (ed.) Explorations in cultural anthropology. New York: McGraw-Hill. 239-258.

The following requirements of the LSA Style Sheet which will apply to manuscripts intended for publication in the Journal of Linguistics should be particularly noted:

1. All copy must be double-spaced throughout, and margins of at least 1½ inches should be left on all four sides of each sheet (LSA style sheet, sections 1(c) and (d)).

2. Tables, charts and diagrams (though not simple rules, examples or formulae) must each appear on a separate sheet, and must be labelled 'Fig 2', 'Table 4' or the like as appropriate. References in the text to the table or diagram must be made by citing this label, and not in such terms as 'in the diagram following' (LSA style sheet, sections 1(e) and 10(c)).

3. Typescripts of articles should be submitted in three copies, typescripts of reviews in two copies. Typescripts will not be returned unless postage is provided by contributors (LSA style sheet, section 1(g)).

4. No part of a title or section heading should be underscored: the Editors exercise the final choice of typefaces in these cases (LSA style sheet, section 8(a)).

5. The typescript of an article should be accompanied by an abstract of about 100 words summarizing the conceptual content of the article; it should be typed (double-spaced) on a separate sheet, section 11).

Proofs. First proofs only will be sent to the author (or his nominee), who will be expected to correct them and return them to the Editor, by airmail where appropriate, within three days of receipt.
