

EDITOR'S NOTES

Material for this issue of ARD has been put together with the help of Cyprian Marah, Assistant Librarian in the Library of Fourah Bay College, University of Sierra Leone, and currently undertaking research in the University of London on university libraries in Africa. The editor is most grateful for his help and hopes that it may continue for future issues.

Neither issues 45 nor 46 of ARD have contained the usual list of theses in progress and completed in British universities. This is because the compiler, Sara Joynes of the Library of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies, University of London, has been for several months on secondment to the Australian Joint Copying Project. We hope to resume the lists in the later issues of 1988.

Subscribers should note that the front cover of the last issue should have read No. 45, 1987 (not 1988). The inside title-page was correct.
