

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION (Required by 39 U.S.C. 3685). 1A. Title of publication: Journal of Economic History (The). 1B. Publication no. 279-580. 2. Date of filing: 9/25/90. 3. Frequency of issue: Quarterly. 3A. No. of issues published annually: Four (4). 3B. Annual subscription price: $60.00. 4. Complete mailing address of known Office of Publication: Cambridge University Press--American Branch, 40 West 20th Street, New York City, New York County, NY 10011. 5. Complete mailing address of the headquarters of general business offices of the publisher: Cambridge University Press, Edinburgh Bldg., Stafesbury Rd., Cambridge, CB2 2RU, England. 6. Full names and complete mailing address of publisher, editor and managing editor. Publisher: Cambridge University Press--American Branch, 40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011. Editor: Professor Paul Hohenberg, Dept. of Economics, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, NY 12181. Managing Editor: James Alexander, Cambridge University Press--American Branch, 40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011. 7. Owner: The Economic History Association, Dept. of History, George Washington University, Washington, DC 20052 (A nonprofit organization). 8. Known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities: None. 9. Not applicable. or other securities: None. 9. Not applicable. 10. Extent and nature of circulation. Average no. of copies each issue during preceding 12 months; A. Total no. of copies (Net press run): 4172. B. Paid and/or requested circulation: 1. Sales through dealers and carriers, street vendors and counter sales: 0. 2. Mail subscription (Paid and/or requested): 2258 C. Total paid and/or requested circulation: 2258. D. Free distribution by mail, carrier or other means. Samples, complimentary, and other free copies: 19. E. Total distribution: 2277. F. Copies not distributed: 1. Office use, left over, unaccounted, spoiled after printing: 1895. 2. Return from news agents: 0. G. Total 4172. Actual no. of copies of single issue published nearest to filing date: A. Total no. of copies (Net press run): 4218. B. Paid and/or requested circulation: 1. Sales through dealers and carriers, street vendors and counter sales: 0. carriers, street vendors and counter sales: 0. 2. Mail subscription (Paid and/or requested): 2273. C. Total paid and/or requested circulation: 2273. and/or requested circulation: 2273. D. Free distribution by mail, carrier or other means. Samples, complimentary, and other free copies: 19. E. Total distribution: 2292. F. Copies not distributed: 1. Office use, left over, unaccounted, spoiled after printing: 1926. 2. Return from news agents: 0. G. Total 4218. 11. I certify that the statements made by me above are correct and complete. Signature and title: Lynda DiCaprio, Journals Fulfillment Manager, Cambridge University Press.

QUESTIONNAIRE FOR POTENTIAL REVIEWERS

Insofar as possible the Editors will select reviewers from among readers of the JOURNAL. If you are willing to write reviews please fill out and return this form to Thomas Weiss, JOURNAL OF ECONOMIC HISTORY, 211 Watkins Home, Hall Center for the Humanities, the University of Kansas, Lawrence, KS 66045.

Name (last name first): _____

Address: _____

Institutional affiliation (if not in address) and academic status: _____

Areas of reviewing competence in economic history (specify country and place): _____

Languages other than English in which you have a reading proficiency: _____

Representative recent publications (maximum of five):

Cambridge University Press

Death by Migration

Europe's Encounter with the Tropical World in the Nineteenth Century

Philip D. Curtin

"This is a most fascinating study of medical and demographic history, with the broadest implications for the understanding of European imperial expansion" – Stanley L. Engerman

37162-7 Hardcover $39.50/38922-4 Paper $11.95

The Rise and Fall of the Plantation Complex

Essays in Atlantic History

Philip D. Curtin

Over a period of several centuries, Europeans overseas developed an intricate system of plantation agriculture which, although centered in the New World tropics, had an influential role in world history. These essays concentrate on that intercontinental perspective from its first appearance to its fall at the end of the nineteenth century.

Cambridge Studies in Comparative World History

37475-8 Hardcover $39.50/37616-5 Paper $10.95

The Rise of Merchant Empires

Long Distance Trade in the Early Modern World, 1350-1750

James D. Tracy, Editor

European dominance of the shipping lanes in the early modern period was a prelude to the great age of European imperial power, in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. The essays in this volume examine on a global basis the many different trading empires from the end of the middle ages to the eighteenth century.

38210-6 Hardcover $44.50

Conflict and Compromise

The Political Economy of Slavery, Emancipation, and the American Civil War

Roger L. Ransom

This book examines the economic and political factors that led to the South's attempt to dissolve the Union and the North's equally determined effort to preserve it. The author reveals the irony of the South's bitter defeat in a war to protect the institution of slavery, even though it is likely that the United States' Constitution offered the best protection for a slave system.

32343-6 Hardcover $39.50/31167-5 Paper $12.95

The Dutch in the Atlantic Slave Trade, 1600-1815

Johannes M. Postma

This book examines Dutch involvement in the Atlantic slave trade from the beginning of the seventeenth century to the early nineteenth century. The book also provides much new information about the treatment and mortality of the slaves during the "middle passage" and examines the question of the slave trade's profitability.

36585-6 Hardcover $54.50

International Monetary Economics, 1870-1960: Between the Classical and the New Classical

M. June Flanders

This history of international monetary thought from the end of the nineteenth century to the middle of the twentieth century provides the most comprehensive survey of the literature on the theory of international finance yet produced. The author examines the developments of all the main schools through the Neoclassicals, the Keynesians, and the New Classicals.

Historical Perspectives on Modern Economics

36170-2 Hardcover $49.50

The French Revolution

An Economic Interpretation

Florin Aftalion

Martin Thom, Translator

This book is designed to provide a clear, accessible and thought-provoking guide to the economic background of the French Revolution. The author analyzes the policies followed by successive Revolutionary assemblies, examining taxation, the confiscation of church property, the assignats, and the siege economy of the Terror.

Copublished with the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme

36241-5 Hardcover $39.50/36810-3 Paper $12.95

The Colonial Origins of Korean Enterprise, 1910-1945

Dennis L. McNamara

Through case studies of local ownership in major financial, commercial and industrial ventures, this book provides a detailed picture of indigenous capitalism during Japanese colonization.

38565-2 Hardcover $44.50

The History of Econometric Ideas

Mary Morgan

"The first true history of econometrics. It will be used as a reference on specific points, where its accuracy and accessibility are a delight..." – Neil de Marchi

This book covers the period from the late nineteenth century to the middle of the twentieth century, illustrating how economists first learned to harness statistical methods to measure and test the "laws" of economics.

37398-0 Hardcover $44.50

Phases of Economic Growth 1850-1973

Kondratieff Waves and Kuznets Swings

Solomos Solomou

Using data for Britain, France, Germany, the United States and the world economy between 1850 and 1973, this book examines the evidence for long-term patterns of economic growth. The author argues that there is no positive evidence for Kondratieff waves, but finds evidence that Kuznets swings are a much more generalized growth pattern than previously thought.

33457-8 Hardcover $49.50/38904-6 Paper $16.95

Russia's Cotton Workers and the New Economic Policy

Shop Floor Culture and State Policy 1921-1929

Chris Ward

Ward reveals the complex world on the shop floor of the Russian cotton mill that grew out of the interaction between the experience of industrialization in late nineteenth and early twentieth century Russia and the mechanization of the cotton industry in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century Britain.

34580-4 Hardcover $44.50

Commercialization and Agricultural Development

Central and Eastern China 1870-1937

Loren Brandt

This book reinterprets the impact of accelerated commercialization of Chinese agriculture in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries on the growth of Central and Eastern China's rural economy.

37196-1 Hardcover $42.50

Capitalism, Socialism, and Serfdom

Essays by Evsey D. Domar

This book contains fourteen of the author's principal papers.

37091-4 Hardcover $49.50

The Economic Limits to Modern Politics

John Dunn, Editor

In contemporary political thought, the economic considerations of public policy have assumed prominence.

This volume attempts to display the historical novelty and intellectual importance of this dilemma to uncover its origins and to produce a remedy through a clearer and steadier focus.

35283-5 Hardcover $29.95

Free Banking and Monetary Reform

David Glasner

"Glasner provides an excellent review of monetary history, insightful discussions of such monetary innovations as the development of the Eurocurrency market and money market mutual funds, and incisive analyses of recent monetary problems like the deregulation of savings and loan associations and the insurance of bank deposits. This timely and lucid book on such a controversial issue deserves a wide audience." – Choice

36175-3 Hardcover $32.50

Economic Laws and Economic History

Charles P. Kindleberger

Essentially exercises in methodology, these lectures discuss four "laws" in economics to show how uniformities can illuminate economic history in particular aspects: Engel's laws on consumption, Gresham's law relating originally to money but extended to most financial assets, and the law of one price on the joining or integration of markets.

26791-9 Hardcover $49.50

At bookstores or from

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011. Call toll-free 800-872-7423 outside NY State.
800-227-0247, NY State only. MasterCard/VISA accepted. Prices subject to change.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

5801 South Ellis Avenue
Chicago, IL 60637

At bookstores, or call:
1-800-621-2736
In Illinois: 312-568-1550

Making America Corporate, 1870-1920

Olivier Zunz

"This is an important and imaginative book that addresses a wide range of issues. Among its many contributions, perhaps the greatest is its reconstruction of the lives and roles of middling figures in the corporate world, men and women usually neglected by social historians. Unlike previous broad studies of turn-of-the-century America, Zunz's looks at how the new industrial system actually worked and at the people who ran it."—Ronald G. Walters, Johns Hopkins University

Cloth $24.95 278 pages
26 halftones, 1 map

If You're So Smart

The Narrative of Economic Expertise

Donald N. McCloskey

"No one has done more than Donald McCloskey to remind us that economic theories, whatever their mathematical power and elegance, cannot guarantee their own relevance to practical situations. His emphasis on the need to think more deeply about the contexts within which economics operate, and the purposes it serves, is a splendid corrective to the technical enthusiasm of too much contemporary writing on the subject."—Stephen Toulmin, Northwestern University

Cloth $17.95 192 pages

Rural Communities in the Medieval West

Leopold Genicot

Leopold Genicot explains the different paths by which—at the village level—agrarian economies arrived at the threshold of early modern times. Well-known for his study of the Namur region, Genicot compares the results from that work to the recent conclusions of scholars writing on virtually every other region of medieval Europe. He examines rural development from the perspectives of geography and economics, law and politics, and religion and spirituality.

$30.00

Slavery in the Circuit of Sugar

Martinique and the World Economy, 1830-1848

Dale W. Tomich

Dale W. Tomich traces the historical development of slave labor and plantation agriculture in Martinique and interprets these events against the broader background of the world economy. Based on archival sources, Slavery in the Circuit of Sugar reconstructs the complex and contradictory interrelations among the world market, the material processes of sugar production, and the social relations of slavery.

$46.50

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY PRESS

701 West 40th Street, Suite 275, Baltimore, Maryland 21211
or call 1-800-537-JHUP

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
Administrator of National Banks
Washington, DC 20219

Announces the Opening of Competition for

The Comptroller's Fellowship in Economic History

This fellowship, expected to commence in September 1991, offers the opportunity for a scholar to spend 4 to 6 months in Washington DC, producing a manuscript on a topic in economic history to be proposed by the applicant. Proposals will be judged on the basis of several criteria, including relevance to the mission of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC). The fellowship will be awarded in the form of a negotiated services contract.

The fellowship will pay the pro-rated equivalent of the Fellow's regular salary and benefits (not to exceed a total of $5186 per month), plus a living allowance of $1000 per month and a small sum for research and travel expenses.

Applicants should hold a recent Ph.D. in history, economics, or a related field, and a college or university research or teaching appointment.

To receive a detailed notice of requirements, to be issued early in 1991, write to Mr Anthony Cooch.

Home and WorkHousework, Wages, and the Ideology of Labor in the Early RepublicJEANNE BOYDSTON, University of Wisconsin, Madison

A striking account of the gender and labor systems that characterized industrializing America, this work is a history of women's unpaid domestic labor in the United States prior to the Civil War.

1990 240 pp. $29.95

Mountains of DebtCrisis and Change in Renaissance Florence, Victorian Britain, and Post War AmericaMICHAEL VESETH, University of Puget Sound"Reading Veseth will illuminate the analysis of U.S. public debt, highlighting the need to understand and appreciate its historical counterparts and perspectives." — James A. Papke, Purdue University.

1990 288 pp. $29.95

The Timber Bubble that BurstGovernment Policy and the Bailout of 1984JOE P. MATTEY, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C."A serious piece of scholarship that combines the author's own insights and recently theoretical insights of others, along with a wealth of real-world detail, to explain the behavior of the market for timber futures in the North west from 1979–82." — John L. Solow, University of Iowa.

1990 128 pp. $35.00

The Pre-Industrial Consumer in England and AmericaCAROLE SHAMMAS, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Drawing on detailed local research and intensive quantitative analysis, this work presents a comprehensive study of consumers and consumption in pre-industrial England and America.

1990 336 pp. $49.95

*New in paperback!Named an Outstanding Academic Book of 1989–1990 by ChoiceDutch Primacy in World Trade, 1585–1740JONATHAN I. ISRAEL, University of London

This is the first general account of the Dutch world-trade hegemony from its origins as a depot for "bulk-carrying" in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries to its collapse in the eighteenth century.

1989 (paper 1990) 488 pp. paper $22.00 cloth $79.00

*New in paperback!The Keynesian Revolution in the Making, 1924–1936PETER CLARKE, Cambridge University"An important book, full of rich documentation on the relation between arguments in economic policy and arguments in economic theory." — Journal of Economic History.

1989 (paper 1990) 368 pp. paper $22.50 cloth $64.00

*New in paperback!Bound for America*The Transportation of British Convicts to the Colonies, 1718–1775A. ROGER EKIRCH, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University"Provides the first comprehensive study in over forty years of post-1718 British convict transportation to America and does so in an entertaining and easy-to-read manner. It should be considered a definitive source." — Journal of Economic History.

1987 (paper 1990) 304 pp. paper $19.95 cloth $49.95

Prices and publication dates are subject to change and good only in the U.S.To order, send check or money order to: Department MG

To order by phone using major credit cards, please call (212) 679-7300 ext. 7106

Oxford University Press

200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016

International Studies Quarterly

Editorial Board

Professor Brian M. Pollins
Ohio State University
Dept. of Political Science
Columbus, Oh 43210

Professor Richard Hermann
Ohio State University
Dept. of Political Science
Columbus, Oh 43210

Professor Goldy Shabad
Ohio State University
Dept. of Political Science
Columbus, Oh 43210

International Studies Quarterly, the official journal of the International Studies Association, is directed toward a broad international and interdisciplinary community of scholars. The focus is on problems of international political and economic life, and on the comparative study of political, economic and social issues that transcend national boundaries. The Editors seek substantial contributions that are interdisciplinary in nature and scope; reflect the various political, economic, social and cultural factors that underlie differing outlooks on international problems; or treat important theoretical issues or analyze substantive policy questions of a long-term nature.

International Studies Quarterly is published four times a year, in March, June, September and December. Individuals may obtain International Studies Quarterly at a substantially reduced rate through membership in the International Studies Association.

ISSN 0020-8833

Published Quarterly

For a sample copy and ordering information write or call:
Butterworths, Journals Promotion, 80 Montvale Avenue, Stoneham, MA 02180, USA (617) 438-8464

State Capitalism and Working-Class Radicalism in the French Aircraft Industry

HERRICK CHAPMAN

In the 1950s and 1960s France experienced an economic miracle. As the state's role expanded with efforts to create a more modern economy, however, labor relations remained more volatile and workers more radical than elsewhere in western Europe. Chapman argues here that state capitalism and working-class radicalism went hand-in-hand and that both have antecedents in the tumultuous events of the 1930s and 1940s. $49.95 cloth, $16.95 paper

Political Economy and the Rise of Capitalism

A Reinterpretation
DAVID McNALLY

"An extremely judicious and penetrating examination of the intricate relationship between political reality and economic theory in early modern Britain and France. . . Its subtle exploration of the relationships between human action and economic abstraction is often stunning. . . A very bold book."—Scotia
$12.95 paper

Weak Foundations

The Economy of El Salvador in the Nineteenth Century 1821-1898
HECTOR LINDO-FUENTES

Lindo-Fuentes provides the first in-depth economic history of El Salvador during the crucial decades of the nineteenth century showing how the parallel process of state-building and expansion of the coffee industry resulted in the formation of an oligarchy that was to rule El Salvador during the twentieth century. $34.95

Russia's Last Capitalists

The Nepmen, 1921-1929
With a New Preface
ALAN M. BALL

New in paper—"Ball's study of the era in Soviet history of the New Economic Policy (NEP) appears at an unusually timely moment. Cooperative and individual enterprise has been legalized and leasing is to be recognized as a coequal form with state property in agriculture and industry. . . . NEP, not surprisingly, has returned as a subject of acute interest to contemporary Soviet policymakers. . . . Ball's book provides much valuable evidence on these matters. The gap it fills is a large one. "
—American Historical Review

$11.95 paper

All prices are in U. S. dollars.

University of California Press
Berkeley 94720

The New Competition

Institutions of Industrial Restructuring
Michael H. Best

Why is America losing its competitive edge in basic industries? The problem, Michael Best argues, is due to the rigid command and control structures that are typical of big business in America. American firms lack the organizational flexibility of the "new competition" of Italy, West Germany, and Japan. These foreign firms, he argues, seek competitive advantage not by being the lowest cost producer, but through superior product design which requires an unusual degree of organizational flexibility. Best articulates a new role for national industrial policy based on this model of product-related rivalries rather than price rivalry.

$27.50 cloth

Regulating a New Economy

Public Policy and Economic Change in America, 1900-1933
Morton Keller

In this remarkable work, Morton Keller describes the complex interplay between rapid economic change and regulatory policy from the dawn of the new century to the early 1930s. He provides an evocative portrait of the response of American politics, law, and government to a dynamic, changing economy.

Keller begins by identifying the distinguishing features of the new economy, then goes on to explore how policymakers responded to it through detailed examination of the antitrust movement, public utilities regulation, and the regulation of new technologies such as automobiles and aircraft, electric power and telephone, motion pictures, and radio.

$27.50 cloth

Scale and Scope

The Dynamics of Industrial Capitalism
Alfred D. Chandler, Jr.

"Serious students of the worldwide industrialization that occurred in the century between the 1870s and the 1970s are indebted to Mr. Chandler... for a lifetime of determined effort to find order and predictable processes in industrial history... Mr. Chandler started out years ago to make sense out of the transformation of capitalist enterprise caused by the growth of giant industrial companies... He has succeeded with a power and authority that will not soon be matched."

—Jonathan Hughes,

New York Times Book Review

The Belknap Press $35.00 cloth

Enterprise

The Dynamic Economy of a Free People
Stuart Bruchey

"In Enterprise, Stuart Bruchey... writes a rich and comprehensive survey spanning four centuries of the American economy... [He] presents a wealth of material on American economic growth and development. He enlivens his narrative with debates of past historians and the findings of contemporary research... On turning the final page of this book, the reader is struck by what Mr. Bruchey has achieved."

—New York Times Book Review

$24.95 paper/$49.50 cloth

Harvard University Press

Cambridge, MA 02138
(617) 495-2480

ACCOUNTANCY COMES OF AGE

The Development of an American Profession, 1886–1940

by Paul J. Miranti, Jr.

Paul Miranti's book provides a historical analysis of the factors contributing to the rise of the certified public accounting profession in the United States from 1886 to 1940. Miranti focuses particularly on the strategies implemented by the American Association of Public Accountants and its successor, the American Institute of Accountants, to secure a permanent and important role for the profession in the economic life of the nation. "A sound analysis of the history of public accountancy in the United States."—William H. Becker

288 pp., $29.95

available at bookstores or from

The University of North Carolina Press

Post Office Box 2288

Chapel Hill, NC 27515-2288

Toll-free orders: 1-800-848-6224

The Quest for Productivity

A Case Study of Fawley after Flanders

Bruce Ahlstrand

This book describes the evolution of management style in postwar Britain and in particular, the inadequacies of Esso's management. The author shows how different Flanders' conclusions were from the reality of Esso's inability to develop stable bargaining relationships, culminating in the union busting of the 1980s.

Cambridge Studies in Management 15

36380-2 Hardcover $49.50

British Unemployment
1919-1939

A Study in Public Policy

W. R. Garside

The author draws upon an extensive range of primary and secondary sources to analyze official ameliorative policy toward unemployment and contemporary reactions to such intervention, assessing the nature and scale of interwar unemployment assistance.

36443-4 Hardcover $69.50

An Economic History of the English Poor Law, 1750-1850

George R. Boyer

This book examines the economic role of the Poor Law in the rural south of England.

It presents a model of the agricultural labor market that provides explanations for the widespread adoption of outdoor relief policies, the persistence of such policies until the passage of the Poor Law Amendment Act in 1834, and the sharp regional differences in the administration of relief.

36479-5 Hardcover $44.50

The Politics of Social Solidarity

Class Bases of the European Welfare State, 1875-1975

Peter Baldwin

This book examines the social bases of the European welfare state, and the interests developed in or against social policy by various classes of society in Britain, France, Germany, Denmark and Sweden.

37512-6 Hardcover $44.50

R & D for Industry

A Century of Technical Innovation at Alcoa

Margaret B. W. Graham and Bettye H. Pruitt

Alcoa has surpassed many American manufacturing companies in devoting its energies to linked process and product innovation and has invested more heavily in R & D than its competition has. As a result, the company's history, as examined here, provides a valuable opportunity to observe the development of R & D within a corporation.

39413-9 Hardcover $49.50

Regions and Industries

A Perspective on the Industrial Revolution in Britain

Pat Hudson, Editor

In this book a team of distinguished historians contribute a series of inter-connected essays illustrative of the richness and variety of fundamental change at regional level. The volume emphasizes need to evaluate aggregate studies of "national" variables in the light of contrasting regional experiences.

34106-X Hardcover $49.50

The Political Economy of Commerce: Southern India
1500–1650

Sanjay Subrahmanyam

This book explores the relationship between long-distance trade and the economic and political structure of southern India in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries.

Cambridge South Asian Studies 45
37180-5 Hardcover $54.50

Slavery and African Life
Occidental, Oriental and African Slave Trades

Patrick Manning

This is an analysis of the demography, economics, social structure and ideology of African slavery from the beginning of large-scale slave export in the seventeenth century to slavery's gradual elimination in the twentieth century.

African Studies Series 67
34396-8 Hardcover $49.50
34867-6 Paper $14.95

The Modern Economic and Social History of the Middle East in Its World Context

Georges Sabagh, Editor

In this book the nature and effects of the political upheavals and momentous social and economic disturbances which the Middle East has witnessed during the past few decades are examined in essays that offer a wealth of insight, theoretical argument and information about salient aspects of Middle Eastern social and economic history.

37351-4 Hardcover $39.50

The Colonial Origins of Korean Enterprise, 1910–1945

Dennis L. McNamara

Through case studies of local ownership in major financial, commercial and industrial ventures, this book provides a detailed picture of indigenous capitalism during Japanese colonization.

38565-2 Hardcover $44.50

Protectionism and Economic Revival: The British Inter-War Economy

Michael Kitson and Solomos Solomou

In contrast to most studies of the period, the authors show that the introduction of the General Tariff in 1932 provided a substantial stimulus to the domestic economy—a stimulus that can help to explain the trend improvement in British economic growth in the 1930s.

38267-X Hardcover $44.50

Russia's Cotton Workers and the New Economic Policy

Shop Floor Culture and State Policy 1921–1929

Chris Ward

Chris Ward uses a wide range of sources to examine key aspects of life on the shop floor of the Russian cotton mill. He reveals the existence of a complex world of work that grew out of the interaction between the experience of the industrialization in late nineteenth and early twentieth century Russia and the mechanization of the cotton industry in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century Britain.

Soviet and East European Studies 69
34580-4 Hardcover $44.50

At bookstores or write:

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011.

Call toll-free 800-872-7423 outside NY State. 800-227-0247, NY State only.
MasterCard/Visa accepted. Prices subject to change.