

Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

OR

Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989: Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal page numbers of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413-50.

Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12-15 (May).

UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR 1998 J. WILLARD HURST PRIZE

The Hurst Prize Committee of the Law and Society Association seeks nominations and suggestions for works appropriate for the 1998 prize. The Hurst prize is given for the best work in American socio-legal history published between January 1996 and December 1997. In the spirit of Willard Hurst's own work, the committee will consider works on the history of interrelationships between law and social, economic, and political change; the history of functions and impact of legal agencies, legislative and administrative as well as judicial; the social history of the legal profession; and similar topics. Although the prize is for American legal history, significant comparative work that sheds light on American history will also be considered. The submission of purely doctrinal studies of the evolution of appellate case law is, however, discouraged. Preference in making the award will normally be given to books; but articles and monographs of exceptional quality will also be considered. The Prize includes a cash award of $500. Nominations should be received by December 31, 1997.

The committee includes Lawrence M. Friedman, (chair) Stanford University; Arthur McEvoy, University of Wisconsin, Madison; David Sugarman, University of Lancaster, and Vicky Saker Woeste, American Bar Foundation. Recommendations and/or books suggested for the committee's consideration should be sent to:

MAKING CRIME PAY
Law and Order in Contemporary American Politics
KATHERINE BECKETT

How did crime, drugs, and delinquency come to be such salient political issues, and why have enhanced punishment and social control been defined as the most appropriate responses to these complex social problems? Beckett provides original and persuasive answers to these important questions.

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS 1998 STUDENT AWARDS

The Law and Society Association is seeking nominations for its Student Awards which will be presented at the Association's Annual Meeting in Aspen, Colorado in June, 1998. Awards will be offered to those whose nominated paper best represents outstanding law and society research in two categories: undergraduate papers; and graduate or law student papers. The awards in each category are $100 cash and up to $400 toward travel cost to attend the meeting. Nominations can be made only by a non-student member of the Law and Society Association and through the submission of the recommended student paper to the Committee on Student Awards. The committee includes Barbara Yngvesson, chair (Hampshire College), Jonathan Casper (Northwestern University), Audrey Kobayashi (Queen's University), and Thomas Russell (University of Texas, Austin). We seek to expand the pool of submissions, and we urge you to send along papers you admire.

The subject matter of the recommended papers should be in the interdisciplinary tradition of law and society research, and should reflect the style of articles that appear in the Law & Society Review. We intend to be inclusive of all work that examines law in culture and society including interpretive, historical, social scientific and jurisprudential scholarship. All papers entered in the competition should be written by matriculated students at any (U.S. or non-U.S.) institution of higher education between September 1996 and January 1998. Submissions will be evaluated within each category.

Send 4 copies of the recommended student paper before February 1, 1998 to:
