NETHERLANDS YEARBOOK OF INTERNATIONAL LAW XXIV

The 1993 Netherlands Yearbook of International Law contains expert articles on issues such as: persistent controversies regarding customary international law; legal protection of the environment during international armed conflict; the law of multinational bays and the case of the Gulf of Fonseca; judicial enforcement of Article 26 of the international covenant on civil political rights in the Netherlands.

The documentation section surveys Dutch state practice for the parliamentary year 1991–1992; international agreements to which the Netherlands is a party; Netherlands judicial decisions and municipal legislation involving questions of public international law and Dutch literature in the field of public international law and related matters.

This Yearbook is included in the 1993 subscription to the Netherlands International Law Review (Volume 40).
