

Treasurer: James Stimson, University of North Carolina

The newly elected members of the Council, APSA's governing body, are: Randall Calvert, Washington University; William Galston, University of Maryland; Edmond Keller, University of California, Los Angeles; Gary King, Harvard University; Atul Kohli, Princeton University; David Rayside, University of Toronto; Christine Marie Sierra, University of New Mexico; and Sven Steinmo, University of Colorado.

Council Business in Atlanta

At its September 1 meeting in Atlanta, the APSA Council

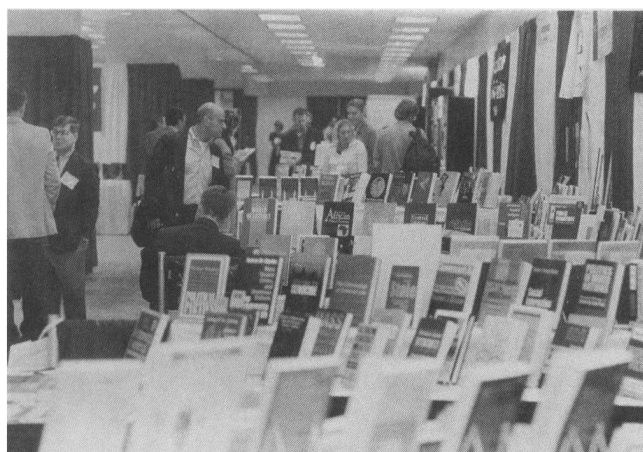

- Approved a joint membership arrangement with the American Association of Political Consultants (see related story).
- Extended the life of the Ad Hoc Committee on Political Science and the National Science Foundation to April 2000.
- Ratified the Standing and Award Committee appointments of President-Elect Robert Keohane (to be published in the March issue of PS).
- Amended and consented to the balanced budget for FY 2000–01 presented by Treasurer Timothy Cook.
- Received an interim report from Charles Johnson, chair of the Committee on Education and Professional Development, asking for Council involvement in the development of recommendations to departments to address the changing job market and the need for further professional development of graduate students and new faculty.
- Authorized a draw down of up to $60,000 from APSA's operating

The APSA exhibit booth highlighted the important programs and activities the Association develops and maintains for its members.

fund to appeal the Association's real estate tax status in the District of Columbia should the Administrative Committee decide that proceeding in the litigation would be prudent.

- Approved the preregistration fee schedule for the 2000 Annual Meeting and established a standing 5% annual increase thereafter in lieu of triennial increases.
- Received the final report of Pippa Norris, chair of the Ad Hoc Committee on Technology, concerning the relaunch of APSA's web site and new electronic services offered by APSA.
- Applauded the work of the Centennial Campaign leaders—especially that of Dale Rogers Marshall, Jack Peltason, and

The 1999 Exhibit Hall featured over 150 exhibitors from the U.S. and around the globe.

Robert Hauck—and the success of the general Campaign and the special initiatives, including three new ones for the Jewel Prestage-Richard Fenno Endowment for the Ralph Bunche Summer Institute, the Ostrom-Awan Endowment for civic education, and the Walter Beach Endowment for graduate student travel grants.

Graduate Students Attend Meeting with APSA Assistance

In a continuing effort to assist graduate students wishing to participate in the Annual Meeting, the Association awarded 32 Advanced Graduate Student Travel Grants for its 1999 meeting in Atlanta. Funded by APSA, winners were selected from a pool of over 125 applicants, all of whom were scheduled to present a paper or poster.

Since the grants were first awarded in 1994, nearly 150 doctoral students from the United States have been funded. The number of applications submitted for consideration has risen nearly 50%. At the 1999 meeting in Atlanta, graduate students delivered papers on approximately 700 panels and roundtables and were well represented among the 400 scholars presenting papers.

As the number of applicants grows and the level of departmental support available to graduate students decreases, the Association is finding it increasingly difficult to meet its goal of ensuring maximum student participation. Contributions to the travel grant fund are welcome from Organized Sections, Related Groups, and individual members. If you are interesting in contributing, please contact Sean Twombly at (202) 483-2512 or twombly@apsanet.org.

The names and affiliations of the 1999 winners follow.

Bianca Adair, University of Alabama
Karen Adelberger, University of California, Berkeley
Yael Aronoff, Columbia University
Shana Bass, University of California, Los Angeles
Mark B. Brown, Rutgers University
Elsa Chen, University of California, Los Angeles
Rachel A. Cichowski, University of California, Irvine
David B. Cohen, University of South Carolina
Brian J. Dille, Arizona State University
Mark Duckenfield, Harvard University
Kevin Ellsworth, Arizona State University
Margaret Farrar, Pennsylvania State University
David Green, University of California, Riverside
Paul I. Howard, Fordham University
Rebecca Tatman Klase, West Virginia University
Tara M. Lennon, Arizona State University
Evan Lieberman, University of California, Berkeley
Daniel Lipson, University of Wisconsin
Dennis E. Logue Jr., University of Virginia
Michelle McLaurin, Johns Hopkins University
William P. McLean, University of New Orleans
Nedim Ogelman, University of Texas
Darel E. Paul, University of Minneapolis
Bruce Peabody, University of Texas
Jessica R. Piombo, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Ken Rutherford, Georgetown University
John F. Ryan, University of North Texas
Ronnee Schreiber, Rutgers University
Paul Seaton, Fordham University
Brenda M. Seaver, University of California, Irvine
Vaughn P. Shannon, Ohio State University
Patti Simmons, Vanderbilt University
Roy Thomas Tsao, Princeton University
Timothy Vercellotti, University of North Carolina
Susan Kristine Walker, University of Missouri, St. Louis
Jennifer Walsh, Claremont Graduate School
Brian C. White, University of Illinois, Chicago
Peter Yacobucci, University of Arizona

An International APSA Annual Meeting

The growing participation of international scholars is increasing the scope of research interests and techniques at the Annual Meeting. APSA continues to support international scholars through the APSA Senior Scholar Travel Grant Program and the Advanced International Graduate Student Grant Program. In Atlanta, 18 senior scholars and 21 graduate students received a combination of travel support, hotel accommodations, and complimentary meeting registrations through the competitive grant programs. The graduate student program supports international students enrolled in American universities who plan to return home to teach in the future. A list of the international grantees and their institutions follows.

Senior Scholar Travel Grant Program

Amir Abedi, Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia, Canada
Attila Agh, Budapest University of Economic Sciences, Hungary
Kengo Akiduki, Kyoto University, Japan
Gabriel Badescu, Babes-Bolyai University, Romania
Milos Calda, Charles University, Czech Republic
Ayse Ceyhan, Institut D'Etudes Politiques, France
Hiroshi Hirano, Gakushuin University, Japan
Yuri Josanu, International Institute of Management, Republic of Moldova
Yoshiaki Kobayashi, Keio University, Japan
Genevieve E. Kyarimpa, Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Makerere University, Uganda

John Maynor, Department of Politics, University of York
Vladimir Mikhalev, Institute of World Economy and International Relations, Russian Academy of Sciences
Henrik Selin, Linkoping University, Sweden
Jan Škaloud, University of Economics, Czech Republic
Kuniaki Tanabe, Tokyo University, Japan
Lazlo Vass, Budapest University of Economic Sciences, Hungary
Klaus Vondung, Universitat Gesamthochschule, Siegen, Germany
Tatyana Zakharova, Far East Institute for Public Service, Khabarovsk, Russia

Advanced International Graduate Student Travel Grant Program

Chung-Lae Cho, University of North Carolina, South Korea
Jungug Choi, University of Texas, South Korea
Mine Aysen Doyran, University at Albany-SUNY, Turkey
Ana Maria Evans de Carvalho, Georgetown University, Portugal
Tulia G. Falletti, Northwestern University, Argentina
Mario Feit, Johns Hopkins University, Germany
Lars K. Hallstrom, Purdue University, Canada
Victoria Tin-bor Hue, Columbia University, Hong Kong
Kyun-Tae Kang, University of North Texas, South Korea
Yoshinori Kaseda, Northern Illinois University, Japan
Su-Feng Kuo, University of Michigan, Taiwan, ROC
Andrew Lister, University of California, Los Angeles, Canada
Baodong Liu, University of New Orleans, People's Republic of China
Carmela Lutmar, New York University, Israel
Svetlana V. Morozova, Claremont Graduate School, Russia
Sebastian Saiagh, New York University, Argentina
Simon Stacey, Princeton University, South Africa
Pieter J. Van Houten, University of Chicago, The Netherlands
Yiman Wang, Duke University, People's Republic of China
Tsung-chi Yu, University of North Texas, Taiwan, ROC
Ka Zeng, University of Virginia, People's Republic of China

The 1999 meeting in Atlanta drew nearly 6000 attendees, a record for an APSA southern meeting.