Jabo Proverbs

By GEORGE HERZOG & C. G. BLOOAH

10s. 6d. net

These proverbs, gathered during a year's stay in Liberia, are not merely of interest as being a collection of vivid maxims and natural wisdom. They paint for the foreigner a life which differs in almost every particular from his own, and are anthropologically as well as socially interesting. An extended introduction discusses the amazing flexibility of these proverbs, their linguistic form (they involve 'tone language' spoken on four registers) and the details of their application.

Effects of Contact with Europeans on the Pondo of South Africa

By MONICA HUNTER

30s. net

A monograph of social anthropology which has both scientific and general interest. The author, herself a South African, has made a detailed study of three related Native communities; a peasant group in the Transkei, another group in the town location of East London, and finally a group living and working on European farms in Cape Province. She has attempted both to describe accurately the present social life of these groups, and also to analyse the changes in that social life which contact with Europeans has caused in the past and is still causing.

Das Buch ist eine Herausarbeitung des einschlägigen Mythenmaterials nach ausschliesslich völkerkundlichen Gesichtspunkten. Jede einseitige Mythendeutung (natur-mythologisch, psychoanalytisch usw.) wurde vermieden und 'Deutungen' des mythischen Materials nur dann zugelassen, wenn die Gesamtweltanschauung der in Frage kommenden mythenbesitzenden Völker unzweifelhafte Unterlagen für eine Deutung liefert
