The Metamorphosis of Persephone

Ovid and the Self-conscious Muse

STEPHEN HINDS

Dr Hinds gives a close reading of the two accounts of the myth of Persephone to be found in Ovid's poetry, the one in Metamorphosis 5, the other in Fasti 4. The book is at once a literary historical enquiry into the double transformation of the rape of Persephone and a critical exploration of the self-conscious delight in language and in writing manifested in and between these twin Ovidian narratives. 196 pp. 0 521 33506 X £22.50 net

Propertius: A Hellenistic Poet on Love and Death

THEODORE D. PAPANGHELIS

This book examines the theme of erotic death which characterised the poetry of Propertius. The author studies the structure, imagery, word-play, ambiguity and allusive techniques of the elegies, revealing a 'learned' and sensuous poet building up his poetry with material whose significance for his aesthetic has not always been fully appreciated. 248 pp. 0 521 32314 2 £25.00 net

Ritualised Friendship and the Greek City

GABRIEL HERMAN

In this book Gabriel Herman shows how although in Classical and Hellenistic Greece the city became the all-pervasive institution, the archaic associations between powerful lords were not superseded – the upper classes continued to help each other through 'ritualised friendship'. He explores the resulting conflicts and the concepts of 'loyalty' and 'obligation', 'gift' and 'bribe', 'treason' and 'patriotism'. 224 pp. 0 521 32541 2 £25.00 net

Vox Graeca

The Pronunciation of Classical Greek

Third Edition

W. SIDNEY ALLEN

This is a new and enlarged edition of Professor Allen's highly successful book on the pronunciation of Attic Greek in classical times. In this third edition, Professor Allen has in particular revised the presentation of the controversial question of stress; the chapter on quantity has been extensively recast; and an appendix has been added on the names and letters of the Greek alphabet. 200 pp. 0 521 33367 9 Hard covers £25.00 net

Eternal Victory

Triumphal Rulership in Late Antiquity, Byzantium, and the Early Medieval West

MICHAEL McCORMICK

This book is a pioneering study with major consequences for the historical understanding of ancient and medieval ceremonies. It attempts to analyse the persistence into the Europe of Charlemagne, of one facet of Roman rulership and ritual whose ever-changing form illuminates the relentless transformations of Byzantium and early medieval monarchy and society. 468 pp. 0 521 26180 5 £30.00 net

New from Oxford

Luciani Opera: Tomus IV (Books LXIX–LXXXVI)

Edited by M. D. MacLeod

This volume completes the Oxford Classical Text of Lucian by adding eleven works of the Lucianic corpus proper, four other works wrongly attributed to Lucian in a few manuscripts, and those epigrams from the Anthologies which have any claim to be regarded as Lucianic.

0 19 814596 9, 450 pages, Clarendon Press £17.50

Ethics and Human Action in Early Stoicism

Brad Inwood

This book presents a detailed reconstruction of the older Stoic theory of the psychology of action, which is discussed in relation to Aristotelian, Epicurean, Platonic, and some of the more influential modern theories.

0 19 824462 2, 358 pages, paper covers, Clarendon Press £9.95

Naming Achilles

David M. Shive

By a close analysis of the figure of Achilles as he is named in all the grammatical cases, the author disputes the argument of Milman Parry that there was great economy and minimal extension in the Homeric poems owing to the constraints of the oral tradition.

0 19 504860 1, 192 pages, OUP USA £27.50

Roman Papers

Ronald Syme

These volumes contain papers composed between 1981 and 1985. Many of them deal with Pliny the Younger and Tacitus: also Strabo, Pliny the Elder, Statius, Quintilian, and Arrian. Several papers concern the Spanish provinces and the Greek east.

Volume IV

0 19 814873 9, 448 pages, Clarendon Press £45.00

Volume V

0 19 814885 2, 336 pages, Clarendon Press £35.00

In Defence of Rhetoric

Brian Vickers

This book sets out to reinstate rhetoric. Beginning with an overview of the rhetorical system as developed in classical times, it surveys the major texts, from Aristotle to Tacitus describing their main emphases and commenting on their value to us today.

0 19 812837 1, 500 pages, Clarendon Press £35.00

The Augustan Aristocracy

Ronald Syme

While the monarchy established by Augustus attracts assiduous study, not enough has been said about the old nobility renescent after years of civil war. Covering something like a century and a half in the history of Roman families, this book may be taken as a supplement no less than a sequel to 'The Roman Revolution' and 'Tacitus'.

0 19 814859 3, 562 pages, Clarendon Press £40.00

COMBAT SPORTS IN THE ANCIENT WORLD

Competition, Violence, and Culture

Michael B. Poliakoff

A society's combat sports reveal a great deal about the character, values and priorities of that society. In this book Michael B. Poliakoff, a leading authority on classical games, provides a comprehensive study of the practice of combat sports in the ancient civilizations of Greece, Rome, and the Near East.

A Lexicon of Greek Personal Names: Volume I

Edited by P. M. Fraser and E. Matthews

The Lexicon is intended to provide those engaged in the study of the Greek world with a list, accompanied by full, itemized evidence, of personal names known from literature, inscriptions, papyri, vases, coins, and other objects, from earliest times to about the 7th century AD.

0 19 864222 9, 516 pages, Clarendon Press/British Academy

£60.00

Aristotle's Two Systems

Daniel W. Graham

There are two dominant approaches to Aristotle: the unitarian and the developmentalist. The limitations inherent in these approaches have led the author to recommend a synthetic view which sees development as a change between systematic theories.

0 19 824970 5, 368 pages, Clarendon Press

£35.00

Essays in Ancient Philosophy

Michael Frede

'Michael Frede has established himself as a leading figure within the field of ancient philosophy. This book confirms his reputation . . . These essays show historical writing in philosophy at its best.' Alexander Nehamas, Pennsylvania University

£20.00

Aristophanes' *Lysistrata

Jeffrey Henderson

Aristophanes' Lysistrata was last edited in 1928, and the last commentary was in 1927; the only previous edition in English appeared in 1911. The present edition brings the play up to date in terms of the advances made in Aristophanic scholarship in the past sixty years. In particular, it is the first to report all the manuscripts, papyri, and testimonial sources of the text, offering a new account of its history and a detailed review of the transmission of the Aristophanic corpus as a whole.

. . . a powerful tool for classicists interested in text analysis and the production of word lists, indexes, and concordances

Micro-OCP is the microcomputer version of the well-known mainframe text analysis package, the Oxford Concordance Program.

Micro-OCP generates word lists, indexes, and concordances from texts in a variety of languages and alphabets. Texts for analysis can be prepared using most word-processing programs or may be entered on a mainframe and downloaded onto a PC.

Features of particular interest to classicists include:

- ▶ the facility to sort into Greek alphabetical order, allowing for accents and other diacritical marks
▶ the inclusion of two alphabets for transliterated Greek, including the Thesaurus Linguae Graecae scheme
▶ most major classical Latin authors are already available in machine-readable form

Micro-OCP runs on the IBM PC, XT, or AT microcomputers. For further information on hardware requirements return the coupon below.

UK Price: £250+VAT for an institution; £165+VAT for an individual working on his/her own PC

Export Price: $395 and $275, respectively

For further information on Micro-OCP, return this coupon to Anne Yates, Oxford Electronic Publishing, OUP, Walton Street, Oxford OX2 6DP.
