The Age of Reform, 1250-1550

An Intellectual and Religious History of Late Medieval and Reformation Europe

Steven Ozment

Ozment believes that the Reformation was a continuation of certain aspects of medieval thought as well as a revolt against others. In this book he traces with great clarity and insight the roots of the Reformation in late medieval times and discusses what happened to these philosophical and religious issues amid the social and political developments of the early 1500s. The Huguenot Struggle for Recognition

N. M. Sutherland

This book traces the Huguenots' struggle for recognition and political reintegration from 1521 to the edict of Nantes in 1598. Treating for the first time the whole series of "religious" edicts as a single corpus of material, it is the only comprehensive study in any language of royal religious policy throughout the entire sixteenth century and will be invaluable for anyone interested in the French Reformation. $25.00

The Reformation in the Cities

The Appeal of Protestantism to Sixteenth-Century Germany and Switzerland

Steven Ozment

"With massive scholarship, masterly powers of analysis and a magisterial though flowing style, Ozment sets out to re-examine our understanding of the religious issues involved in the Reformation at a popular level.... A major achievement."

1981 BREWER PRIZE CONTEST

The American Society of Church History announces that its next Brewer Prize competition for a booklength manuscript in Church History will conclude in 1980. It will consist of a subsidy of $1,000.00 to assist the author in the publication of the winning manuscript, which shall be inscribed on its title page as the "Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize Essay of the American Society of Church History" and shall be published in a manner acceptable to the Society. If competing essays are otherwise of equal quality, preference will be given to those dealing with topics related to the history of Congregationalism. Complete manuscripts in final form, fully annotated, must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 305 East Country Club Lane, Wallingford, Pennsylvania 19086, by 15 December 1980, with return postage included. No manuscripts previously submitted will be considered. The award will be announced at the meeting of the Society in Spring 1981.

Winner of the 1979 Brewer Prize is "Break Every Yoke: American Evangelicals Against Slavery, 1770-1808" by James David Essig.

PHILIP SCHAFF PRIZE

The American Society of Church History takes pleasure in announcing the 1979-80 Philip Schaff Prize. The prize of $1,000.00 will be paid to the author of the best book published in English, originating in the North American scholarly community and presenting original research or interpretation in the history of Christianity or any period thereof.

Books considered for this award must be published during the years 1979 or 1980. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration for the Schaff Prize. Copies of books do not have to be submitted. Titles nominated for consideration of the award must be received by the Chairperson of the Committee on Research of the Society or William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 305 East Country Club Lane, Wallingford, PA 19086, by March 1, 1981. The announcement of the winner of the Schaff Prize will be made at the annual meeting of the Society in December 1981.

Winner of the 1977-1978 Philip Schaff Award is Thomas N. Tentler for Sin and Confession on the Eve of the Reformation, published by Princeton University Press.
