

Les Editions du Cerf

CHRISTMAS 1947 is promised as austere. But the Church will celebrate the great Christian feast as she has celebrated every Christmas since the first, with joy and thankfulness. And not the least part of the Christian celebration is the lovely tradition of giving gifts. We have suggested here some books from Les Editions du Cerf which would (in our opinion) make attractive presents for friends and which would be welcomed by any convent or seminary library.

Les Hommes du Moyen Age :

A beautiful volume of full page photographs by Jean Roubrier to illustrate the accompanying essay, Humanisme Médiéval, by Père Chenu.

55 plates.

8s. 6d

Frère Dominique Père du Precheurs :

Two thirteenth-century legends of St Dominic translated by the Dominican Fathers and illustrated with many original woodcuts by C. Journet.

150 pages.

3s. 0d

Jésus et Son Pays :

A Dominican Father's account of his recent pilgrimage through Palestine. With 41 photographs 200 pages.

7s. 6d

L'Oraison

The latest of the famous Cahiers de la Vie Spirituelle. The development of prayer and meditation is traced from the times of the desert Fathers down to the present day with examples drawn both from the Liturgy and from the private prayers of the saints.

300 pages.

4 full plates.

CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS

by A. Gardeil, O.P.

In defending the natural law and natural morality the Christian is in danger of forgetting the supernatural order. This famous work of Père Gardeil, translated by a nun of Carisbrooke, is a lucid and scholarly exposition of the true basis of a Christian's life—that he must be an alter Christus, another Christ. 2/-

WITH FR VINCENT AT MARBLE ARCH

by E. A. Siderman

Fr Vincent McNabb seen through the eyes of an orthodox Jew. 'I wanted to put on record my appreciation of a great man', said the author, and we feel privileged to publish this unusual testimony to a brilliant brain and friend of the people. 2/-

THE INSIDE OF THE CUP

by Ferdinand Valentine, O.P.

These further spiritual letters to Theophila help us to carry out the previous instructions in Whatsoever He Shall Say. The introduction of her brother, David, enhances their value and broadens their appeal. 6/-

A ROSARY CHAIN

by Sister Mary Dominic, O.P.

This beautiful production, on hand-made paper, brings printing craftsmanship of the highest order within the modest purse so prevalent nowadays. A gift book or school prize of real value both spiritual and material. 5/6
