

Psychiatric Bulletin

The Journal of Trends in Psychiatric Practice

September 1995

Volume 19 Number 9

Editorial

Peering into review. R. Persaud 529

Original papers

The consultant's caseload: a working framework. L. Fagin, D. Hollander and M. Weller 532

Haematological monitoring for clozapine: do patients know why? C. Paton and P. Wolfson 536

Are psychiatrists sexist? A study of bias in the assessment of psychiatric emergencies.
I. Hall and M. Deahl 538

Attitudes of employers to the mentally ill. C. Manning and P. D. White 541

Audit

The impact of a hospital audit on psychiatrists' letters to general practitioners.
P. J. Shah and I. Pullen 544

Drug Information Quarterly

Plasma levels of tricyclics and related antidepressants: are they necessary or useful?
D. Taylor and D. Duncan 548

Which antidepressants are safe to use in breast-feeding mothers?
D. Duncan and D. Taylor 551

Use of fluoxetine in patients with diabetes mellitus. G. Salmon 553

Education

Masters courses in psychiatry. P. J. Shoebridge and M. McCartney 555

Training in genetics for child and adolescent psychiatrists within a senior registrar training scheme. A. J. Wood 559

Psychiatry and the media

Evidence for the existence of a soul? D. Hartman 562

Learning from the patient. F. Klemperer and S. Browning 564

Briefings

"No Lion can him Fright". D. Bennett 565

Psychiatry in Pakistan (1947-1994): the balance sheet. M. Shafigue 567

Busman's holiday 571

Correspondence

573

The College

Library and Information Service 577

Health of the Nation and the medical profession 579

Annual prizes and awards 1995 (Scottish Division) 580

Obituaries

581

Book Reviews

585

Miscellany

590

Forthcoming events

592