From Divine Cosmos to Sovereign State

An Intellectual History of Consciousness and the Idea of Order in Renaissance England

STEPHEN L. COLLINS, Babson College

"Intellectual history at its best. Collins cultivates a splendid harvest of literary and intellectual sources to produce a penetrating analysis of social-psychological change."—Lacey Baldwin Smith, Northwestern University. 1989 256 pp. $39.95

Tudor England

JOHN GUY, University of Bristol

Guy here provides the most complete narrative history of Tudor England in more than 30 years. This authoritative study discusses the far-reaching changes in government and the Reformation of the Church under Henry VII, Edward VI, Mary, and Elizabeth through illuminating character studies of the monarchs and politicians of the era. 1988 600 pp.; illus. $35.00

The Romance of Victorian Natural History

LYNN L. MERRILL

"A substantial and useful book. No other work tries to interpret the aesthetic implications of Victorian natural history as comprehensively as this one does."—John C. Elder, Middlebury College. 1988 320 pp.; illus. $29.95

Two Edg'd Weapons

Style and Ideology in the Comedies of Etherege, Wycherley, and Congreve

ROBERT MARKLEY, University of Washington

This book provides an important rereading of dramatic language in the comedies of Etherege, Wycherley, and Congreve. Demonstrating that comic wit of the late 1600s was a complex means by which these playwrights questioned orthodox values, this is the first work to draw significantly on postmodern theories to discuss the historical problems posed by late 17th-century dramatic style. 1988 280 pp. $49.95

Memoirs of the Extraordinary Life, Works & Discoveries of Martinus Scriblerus

Written in Collaboration by the Members of the Scriblerus Club: John Arbuthnot, Alexander Pope, Jonathan Swift, John Gay, Thomas Parnell, and Robert Harley, Earl of Oxford

Edited by the late CHARLES KERBY-MILLER

Notice

The North American Conference on British Studies is seeking candidates for the editorship of the Journal of British Studies, normally for a renewable term of five years from July 1, 1991. The editor, who is answerable to the Council through a Publications Committee, is responsible for selecting articles, arranging book reviews, and determining general policy for the journal, which is published quarterly by the University of Chicago Press. It is expected that the university in which the editor is based will provide a degree of support for editorial operations, though no contribution toward direct publication costs is involved. Interested candidates should write to the chair of the search committee, Professor R. K. Webb, Department of History, University of Maryland Baltimore County, Baltimore, MD 21228. AA/EOE.
