THE COLLECTED LETTERS OF WILLIAM MORRIS

Volumes III (1889-1892)
and IV (1893-1896)

Edited by Norman Kelvin

These volumes bring to a close the only comprehensive edition of the surviving correspondence of William Morris. The letters articulate his problematic political and artistic stands and equally problematic position within the aesthetic movement of the 1890s. Eloquently voiced are the complex-ities of his troubled marriage and his devotion to his daughters.

But the dominant themes are the Kelmscott Press and the building of Morris's important library of medieval manuscripts and early printed books. The letters record the way in which the Press becomes not only the center of Morris's aesthetic ambitions and achievements but also the site for his closest human relations.

The letters are thoroughly annotated and, with texts and notes, provide a new assessment of Morris's career. Included also are two important documents: F. S. Ellis's Valuation List of Morris's library, made after Morris's death and never before published, and the text of what was to be Morris's final essay on socialism, published in 1896.

THE PRINCETON HANDBOOK OF MULTICULTURAL POETRIES

Edited by T.V.F. Brogan

Drawn from the acclaimed New Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics, the articles in this concise new reference book provide a complete survey of poetic history and practice in every major national literature or cultural tradition in the world. In compiling material on 106 cultures in 92 national literatures, the book gives full coverage to Indo-European poetries, the ancient middle Eastern poetries, subcontinental Indian poetries, Asian and Pacific poetries, continental American poetries, and African poetries. This is a major new reference work that will expand the poetic horizons of its readers.

Paper: $16.95 ISBN 0-691-00168-5
Cloth: $45.00 ISBN 0-691-01089-7 Available January 1996

PMLA (ISSN 0030-8129) is published six times a year, in January, March, May, September, October, and November, by the Modern Language Association of America. Membership in the association is open to persons who are professionally interested in the modern languages and literatures. Annual dues, which include subscription to PMLA, are based on members' incomes and are graduated as follows: student members (seven years maximum), $20; new regular members (first year), $35; regular members (income under $15,000), $25; regular members (income $15,000–$20,000), $40; regular members (income $20,000–$30,000), $50; regular members (income $30,000–$40,000), $65; regular members (income $40,000–$50,000), $75; regular members (income $50,000–$60,000), $85; regular members (income $60,000–$70,000), $95; regular members (income $70,000–$80,000), $105; regular members (income over $80,000), $125; joint members (two individuals sharing the same household, who receive one subscription to PMLA but two copies of all other publications), add $20 to dues category of higher-income member; foreign members, same as regular members (use the American-dollar equivalent to ascertain the dues category). Membership applications are available on request.

The subscription price of PMLA for libraries and other institutions is $108. A subscription including a bound volume at the end of the year is $243, domestic and foreign. Agents deduct 4% as their fee. Single copies of the January, March, May, and October issues may be obtained for $12 each; the September (Directory) issue for $50; the November (Program) issue for $35.

Issues for the current year are available from the Member and Customer Services Office of the association (212 614-6377). Claims for undelivered issues will be honored if they are received within one year of the publication date; thereafter the single-issue price will be charged.

For information about the availability of back issues, inquire of Periodical Service Company, Germantown, NY 12526; 914 941-4404. Early and current volumes may be obtained on microfilm from University Microfilms, Ann Arbor, MI 48106. Purchase of current volumes on film is restricted to subscribers of the journal.

The office of publication and editorial offices are located at 10 Astor Place, New York, NY 10003-6981; 212 475-9500.

All communications including notices of changes of address should be sent to the Member and Customer Services Office of the association. If a change of address also involves a change of institutional affiliation, that office should be informed of this fact at the same time.
