Oxford American Dictionary

Compiled by Eugene Ehrlich, Gorton Carruth, Stuart Berg Flexner, and Joyce M. Hawkins

This is the first dictionary of American English to join the Oxford dictionary family. American spelling and pronunciation are used throughout, and every word is syllabified. The vocabulary includes many specifically American words and everyday American words like railroad, closet, flashlight and trunk (car boot). An important feature of the dictionary is the six hundred notes that separate correct from incorrect usage, something that Americans are becoming increasingly concerned about. £9.95

Fundamentalism and American Culture

The Shaping of Twentieth-Century Evangelicalism 1870–1925
George Marsden

This is a history of the rise of biblical fundamentalism and an interpretation of the movement and its relationship to American culture. It is comprehensive in scope, and includes lively portraits of the protagonists and antagonists of fundamentalism. Marsden's analysis of the genesis of the movement provides a middle of the road alternative to prevailing sociological interpretations without resorting to defensive theological dogmatism. Illustrated £11.50

White Supremacy

A Comparative Study of American and South African History
George M. Fredrickson

This comparative study of United States and South African race relations breaks new ground in offering a fresh perspective on the interracial experience of each country by viewing it through the lens of the other. It discusses settlement and subjugation of native population, the rise of racial slavery, race mixture and the establishment of colour bars, independence and the installation of white supremacy, industrialization and racial discrimination, and, finally, segregation in each society. £12.50

American English

Albert H. Marckwardt and Joe Dillard

This is a revision of Marckwardt's American English (1958), which deals with various aspects of the origin of the language, its regional and social dialects, and its future. Second edition £7.25 paper covers £3.95

Mary Chestnut's Civil War

Edited by C. Vann Woodward

The incomparable American Civil War diarist Mary Chesnut was a witness to the life and death of the Confederacy. With intelligence and passion she described the turbulent events of politics and war, as well as the multilayered strata of society around her. The Chesnut Journals now appear in their first full and reliable edition.

£18.80

Desert Immigrants

The Mexicans of El Paso, 1880–1920

Mario T. García

García explores the relationship of class, race, and labour in El Paso, Texas, documenting the evolution of the Mexican community there. £14.50

The Yale Gertrude Stein

Selections

with an introduction by

Richard Kostelanetz

This distinguished anthology from the Yale Edition of the Unpublished Writings of Gertrude Stein contains some of the most extraordinary works of a writer who, a generation after her death, remains truly contemporary.

Cloth £18.90. Paper £4.40

Matthew Josephson, Bourgeois Bohemian

David E. Shi

In this incisive and thoughtful biography, Shi uses Josephson's colourful career at the centre of many of the major cultural and intellectual events of the twentieth century, to examine the role of the leftist intellectual in American letters. Forthcoming £12.60

Introduction to American Studies

Edited by Malcolm Bradbury and Howard Temperley

This major new book is a collection of twelve specially commissioned inter-disciplinary essays, each written by two experts in history and literature. Each essay explores a central theme or preoccupation of American life, and together they present an integrated picture of American culture and society. The topics included reflect the general nature of most modern American studies courses. Attention is therefore given to imagery and iconography, myth, national identity and American ideology, as well as to popular culture, painting, and fundamental influences like the machine and the city.

The Journal of Latin American Studies

Edited by HAROLD BLAKEMORE

University of London

CLIFFORD T. SMITH

University of Liverpool

Sponsored by the Centres or Institutes of Latin American Studies at the Universities of Cambridge, Exeter, Glasgow, Liverpool, London and Oxford.

The scope of the journal is the study of Latin America from the standpoint of the social sciences, including anthropology, archaeology, economics, geography, history, international relations, politics and sociology, etc., though it is not concerned with linguistic or literary studies. Contributions are invited from all parts of the world and, while editorial policy avoids commitment to any political viewpoint or ideology, free discussion of such issues in the Latin American context is welcomed. The journal publishes both articles and book reviews.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Handbook (1977), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
