

The thousands of ritual bronze vessels discovered by China's archaeologists serve as the major documentary source for the Western Zhou dynasty. Shaughnessy has written a meticulous and detailed work on the historiography and interpretation of these objects making accessible in English some of the most important evidence about life in ancient China.

DISPUTERS OF THE TAO: PHILOSOPHICAL ARGUMENT IN ANCIENT CHINA

by A.C. Graham

"The most stimulating and perceptive account of the ancient Chinese philosophical schools that I have come across so far. Dr. Graham deals with the Confucians and the Mohists, he talks about the doctrines of Chuang-tzu and the Taoists, and he discusses the Logicians, such as Kung-sun Lung . . . All in all, a fascinating book!"

EARLY CHINESE TEXTS: A BIBLIOGRAPHICAL GUIDE

Edited by MICHAEL LOEWE

This book will include descriptive notices on sixty-three (63) literary works written or compiled before the end of the Han dynasty. Contributions by leading scholars from the United States and Europe summarize the subject matter and contents, present conclusions regarding authorship, authenticity and textual history, and indicate outstanding problems that await solution. Each item is supported by lists of traditional and modern editions, commentaries, translations and research aids.

Publication is expected by Autumn, 1992.

Birdtrack Press

Birdtrack Press specializes in setting type for sinological publications integrating Chinese with alphabetic text. We have experience setting a broad range of material, from oracle-bone characters to a modern language textbook. Using standard and custom character sets with equal facility, we can print virtually any letter, accent, tone mark or Chinese character. We are happy to work with authors and publishers to design tables or special formats, including poetry. For further information please contact:
