Social Philosophy & Policy

Editor: Ellen Frankel Paul, Social Philosophy and Policy Center, Bowling Green State University

Associate Editors: Fred Miller, Jr. and Jeffrey Paul, Social Philosophy and Policy Center

Social Philosophy & Policy is an interdisciplinary journal with an emphasis on the philosophical underpinnings of enduring social policy debates.

The semi-annual issues are thematic in format, examining a specific area of concern with contributions from scholars in philosophy, economics, political science and law. While not primarily a journal of policy prescriptions, articles typically connect theory with practice.

Papers are submitted upon invitation from the Editors and represent a broad spectrum of political and philosophical views on a given theme. The editors, with the aid of a distinguished editorial board, seek contributions from well-known scholars as well as promising younger researchers.

The 1996 issues will be 'Community, Individual and the State' and 'Scientific Innovation, Philosophy, and Public Policy'.

Subscription Information

Social Philosophy and Policy is published twice a year in Winter and Summer. Volume 13 in 1996: £54 for institutions; £21 for individuals; airmail costs £10 per year extra. ISSN 0265-0525.

"Social Philosophy & Policy is that rare journal which brings together the best in philosophy, politics, law, and economics. The distinguished author whom it publishes in its timely symposia produce works which are required reading both for specialists in these areas and for the general reader."

RICHARD EPSTEIN, UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Notes for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editors, Journal of Social Policy, Education, Political and Social Sciences, South Bank University, 103 Borough Road, London SE1 0AA, UK. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, School of Social Sciences, University of Bath, Bath BA2 7AY.
2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 8,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the editors. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication. Word length must be stated.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.
4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send three copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs. Following acceptance, contributors are strongly encouraged to submit their final revised version of the paper on computer disk (Apple Macintosh or IBM compatible PC) together with the hard copy typescript, giving details of the wordprocessing software used (Microsoft Word, Word or Word Perfect). Disks will not be returned. The publisher reserves the right to typeset any article by conventional means if the author's disk proves unsatisfactory.
5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words, and a title page providing information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements.
6. Contributions should conform exactly to the Journal of Social Policy style and authors should check the format of their own contribution with that of a recent issue of the journal, paying particular attention to references and tables. Gender-neutral language should be used.
7. Notes should not contain bibliographical references: these should be built into the text and the Harvard (author/date) system used. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. Notes and bibliographical references should be typed (double-spaced) as separate sections at the end of the article.
8. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm×155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.
9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editors an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editors, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them.
10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material
