The dissertation session will be chaired by Gregory Clark, University of California, Davis and by Kenneth Sokoloff, University of California, Los Angeles.

HAGLEY RESEARCH SEMINAR

The Hagley Center for the History of Business, Technology and Society will inaugurate in Fall 1992 a monthly research seminar for scholars whose work involves topics in industrialization and the social and cultural dimensions of technological, economic, and urban development. Our interest is chiefly but not exclusively in subjects concerning the United States after 1850, especially the Mid-Atlantic region. Researchers who might wish to offer a paper during the 1992–93 academic year should contact the Director. Travel funds and honoraria are available. In addition, interested scholars and graduate students in the region are invited to become seminar members, again by writing the Director. Seminar members will receive advance copies of papers to be discussed and are welcome to present their own research findings. For further information, contact: Philip Scranton, Center for the History of Business, Technology and Society, Hagley Museum and Library, Wilmington, DE 19807.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR PUBLICATION SPRING 1992

Villa I Tatti: The Harvard University Center for Italian Renaissance Studies will award ten or more stipendiary fellowships, and a limited number of non-stipendiary fellowships, for independent study on any aspect of the Italian Renaissance for the academic year 1993/94. The fellowships are for scholars of any nationality, normally post-doctoral and in the earlier stages of their careers. Fellowships run from 1 July 1993 to 30 June 1994. Fellows must be free to devote full time to study and will be expected to spend most of their time at the Center.

Application forms may be obtained from Villa I Tatti, Via di Vincigliata 26, 50135 Florence, Italy or the Villa I Tatti office, Harvard University, University Place, 124 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge, MA 02138–5762, USA.
