

LEONARD BACON

New England Reformer and Antislavery Moderate

HUGH DAVIS

Davis presents the first full treatment of the life and work of Leonard Bacon, the reformer, editor, church leader, and author who influenced northern Protestants' thinking for more than fifty years. By detailing

Bacon's vigorous efforts to connect his church and community to arenas of national scope, Davis offers new insights into the nineteenth-century Protestant ministry, the evangelical mentality, and the attempts of Bacon's contemporaries to address the moral and social issues of their time.

The Fortunes of Faust

ELIZABETH BUTLER

"The skill and precision with which Butler delineates the phases of the Faust tradition is no less impressive than the elegant magnanimity which she displays in judging the great as well as that host of minor poets whose labors equally testify to the inexhaustible fascination of 'the conflict between religion and rationalism as to the ultimate fate of the Faustian spirit, the desire for infinite knowledge.'" —Yale Review

Book reviews are indexed or abstracted in Book Review Index, Historical Abstracts, and America: History and Life.

Editorial office: Church History, The Divinity School, Duke University, Box 90975, Durham, NC 27708-0975; (919) 660-3470; fax (919) 660-3473; church-history@duke.edu.

Send manuscripts, books for review, and requests about advertising to the editorial office. Manuscripts should run 6,000–11,000 words (or approximately 20–35 pages), not including endnotes, and should be printed double-spaced in 11- or 12-point font; endnotes must be printed double-spaced on separate pages following the text. The editors request (1) three copies of the manuscript (in order to protect the author's anonymity during the review process, the author's name should appear only on the title page of the essay); (2) three copies of a 200-word abstract (if Church History publishes the essay, the abstract may be printed above the first line of the text of the article and/or it may be included on the forthcoming Church History webpage); (3) a 3½-inch diskette containing the manuscript and abstract (instead of sending a diskette, you may submit your manuscript and abstract by electronic mail). Further guidelines are available on request.

Church History is printed by the Science Press division of Mack Printing Group, Ephrata, Pennsylvania. Periodicals postage paid at Red Bank, New Jersey and additional mailing offices. Postmaster: Send address changes to American Society of Church History, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701.
