GENEVA-AFRICA

THE JOURNAL OF THE GENEVA-AFRICA INSTITUTE

Africa in time past lent the European imagination that touch of exotic adventure which its own milieu did not always provide. That time is no more. Africa today seeks her own way through difficulties and incertitudes to which no one open to her desire to meet on terms of equality can remain indifferent.

It is the wish of Geneva-Africa to be an active partner in this unconditional dialogue, and to contribute to a deeper comprehension of the problems and opportunities facing an emergent Africa.

Islam and Imperialism in Senegal

SINE-SALOUM, 1847-1914

Martin A. Klein. This study, concentrating on the Serer states of Senegal during a period of transition from traditional authority to the colonial system, is one of the most detailed histories yet written of the processes of political change in Africa. It has the further distinction of being one of the very few works in English based on local French West African archives and making an extensive use of oral traditions. It has a dual purpose: to examine the responses of local societies in Senegal to Western civilization in general and French colonial policies in particular, and to evaluate the role of Islam in the social, political, and economic changes that have taken place in Senegal in the past 150 years. Hoover Institution Publications.
