NEW PERSPECTIVES ON CHU CULTURE DURING THE EASTERN ZHOU PERIOD

Edited by Thomas Lawton

Perhaps no aspect of early Chinese history and culture has prompted more controversy than that associated with the ancient State of Chu. This major new volume of essays offers the most comprehensive and current analysis of Chu culture during the Eastern Zhou period (770–221 B.C.) in a Western language.

FIVE HUNDRED YEARS OF CHINESE POETRY, 1150–1650

The Chin, Yuan, and Ming Dynasties

Yoshikawa Kōjiro

Translated and with a preface by John Timothy Wixted

With an afterword by William S. Atwell

Five Hundred Years of Chinese Poetry, 1150–1650 offers the only historical survey, in any language, of this important span of Chinese poetry. Written by the foremost Japanese sinologist of this century, the work provides a brief but comprehensive review of the period's literary history, a sketch of its political and social history in relation to literature, and a rendering of more than one hundred and fifty poems.

The Discourse of Race in Modern China

Frank Dikötter

The first systematic analysis of a complex and sensitive subject that has been almost completely ignored by Chinese and Western scholars—how the Chinese have viewed other ethnic groups. 272 pp., illus. $29.50

Rewriting Chinese

STYLE AND INNOVATION IN TWENTIETH-CENTURY CHINESE PROSE

Edward Gunn

Including a rich catalog of rhetorical and stylistic examples, this book analyzes formal features and speculates about their relevance to the construction of a modern Chinese culture to show why the Chinese have come to write the way they do in this century. 373 pp. $39.50

Sowing the Seeds of Change

CHINESE STUDENTS,
JAPANESE TEACHERS, 1895-1905

Paula Harrell

Focusing on the thousands of Chinese who studied in Japan, this book traces the rationale behind the official program, the motivations of the students, and the rise of student dissidence that helped propel China toward revolution in 1911. 350 pp. $37.50

Pioneer of the Chinese Revolution

ZHANG BINGLIN AND CONFUCIANISM
Shimada Kenji

Translated by Joshua A. Fogel

Chinese Studies from Hawaii

Chinese Thought, Society, and Science The Intellectual and Social Background of Science and Technology in Pre-modern China

Derk Bodde

In this challenging work, Derk Bodde examines the cultural requisites for science and technology in early China and other pre-modern civilizations. He focuses on a wide range of intellectual and social forces that may have favoured or disfavoured the development of science and technology in China. 480pp, £35.00hb

The Cavern-Mystery Transmission A Taoist Ordination Rite of A.D. 711

Charles D. Benn

Very little scholarly work has been done on the institutional structure of Taoism in medieval times. With this study of investiture, Charles Benn attempts to fill that void. He describes the mechanism by which the Taoist priesthood ordered and perpetuated itself, as revealed in a rare account of an ordination rite for two Tang princesses. He examines the lives of the participants, the hierarchy of the clergy, the liturgy, and the significance of the altar and its furnishings. 248pp, illus., £23.75hb

Between Fact and Fiction

Essays on Post-Mao Chinese Literature and Society

Kam Louie

These seven critical essays chronologically document the striking changes which have occurred in the thematic concerns of post-Mao fiction. By examining the responses of the authorities and readers to these changes, Kam Louie provides some fascinating insights into the consciousness of Chinese society after the Cultural Revolution, when all aspects of that human experiment were denigrated. 150pp, £16.95pb

Culture and Modernity East-West Philosophic Perspectives

Eliot Deutsch, editor

The thirty-six essays collected in this volume, by some of the most influential contemporary philosophers in the world, represent a major modern venture in cross-cultural interchange between Western and non-Western philosophers. The essays articulate a rich variety of philosophical perspectives on theme of modernity and cultural pluralism. 664pp, £38.00hb
