Through Children Australia, the NCBA provides an opportunity for service providers and researchers to report on their work, and for those concerned with children and families to raise issues and share their views. The opinions expressed in Children Australia are therefore not necessarily those of the NCBA, its Publications Committee or the Editor.

The National Children's Bureau of Australia is an independent, non-government organisation committed to improving the quality of care and life opportunities available to children in Australia. Since its establishment in 1971, the NCBA has played an important advocacy role in support of children. Through its publications, Information Services, conferences and research activities, the NCBA promotes a national and multi-disciplinary approach to children's issues.
