Studies in American Political Development is a semi-annual periodical which publishes theoretical and empirical research on political development and institutional change in the United States. A diversity of subject matters and methodologies is invited, including comparative or international studies that illuminate the American case. Manuscripts of up to 75 pages in length, excluding footnotes, will be considered. There is a "Notes" section for shorter presentation of research perspectives and findings. Also welcomed are review essays on bibliographies of unusual interest, and comments on previously published articles.
