

BROWSE HERE for

provocative, illuminating, stimulating, radical, conservative, different, readable, inexpensive, inspiring, realistic, way-out, way-in THINKING

PUBLICATIONS

Council on Religion and International Affairs

ETHICS & FOREIGN POLICY SERIES

- #100. COMPLETE SET OF ETHICS AND FOREIGN POLICY SERIES
(Descriptive listing by title follows.)
50¢ Each; Set of 15 Pamphlets $6.50 (saving of $1.00)
- #101. ETHICS AND NATIONAL PURPOSE
Kenneth W. Thompson
Dr. Thompson explores tensions existing today in the area of ethics and foreign policy. Comments by Charles Donahue, Stephen G. Gary, Israel Klavin and Herman Reissig. 29 pp.
- #102. MORALITY AND MODERN WAR
John Courtney Murray, S.J.
One of America's outstanding Catholic theologians examines the Church's traditional teaching on war in the light of developments in modern weapons. 23 pp.
- #103. RELIGION AND INTERNATIONAL RESPONSIBILITY
Robert Gordis
The religious and ethical heritage of the Judeo-Christian tradition, Dr. Gordis argues, is both practical and relevant to our international responsibilities today. 21 pp.
- #104. THE RECOVERY OF ETHICS
Paul H. Nitze
An analysis of decision-making at top government levels, this essay also evaluates the contributions of modern scientific thought to the reconstruction of an ethical context for political action. 29 pp.
- #105. THE MORALITY AND POLITICS OF INTERVENTION
Manfred Halpern
Dr. Halpern enunciates principles relevant to the serious discussion of any particular act of intervention, such as the Arab-Israeli war and Vietnam. 36 pp.
- #106. THE LIMITS OF NUCLEAR WAR: Thinking About the Do-able and the Un-Do-able
Paul Ramsey
In this essay the author of War and the Christian Conscience considers the limits, traditional and modern, within which a war can be fought justly. 54 pp.
- #107. AN ALTERNATIVE TO WAR
Gordon Zahn
Dr. Zahn, a leading advocate of nonviolence, considers a course of nonviolent action against the background of threatened nuclear war. 32 pp.
- #108. MORAL TENSIONS IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
John C. Bennett
After asserting the difficulty of relating moral principles to political decisions and actions, Dr. Bennett suggests ways in which these principles, properly employed, help us to explore some of our present dilemmas. 28 pp.
- #109. SOUTH AFRICA: Problems and Prospects
Philip W. Quigg
With commentary by J. S. F. Botha, Kenneth Carstens, Vernon McKay
Believing the most potentially dangerous foreign policy issue for the U.S. to be South Africa, a former editor of Foreign Affairs examines present problems and future prospects. Commentary by other authorities with differing opinions. 48 pp.
- #110. FOREIGN AID: Moral and Political Aspects
Victor Ferkiss
Dr. Ferkiss offers ethical standards on which foreign aid programs should be based and by which they can be judged. 48 pp.
- #111. JUST WAR AND VATICAN COUNCIL II: A Critique
Robert W. Tucker
With commentary by George G. Higgins, Ralph Potter, Richard H. Cox, Paul Ramsey
The relevance of the statements on war made by the Second Vatican Council and the traditional concepts of just war theory are examined here against the conditions of modern warfare. 101 pp.
- #112. COUNTERINSURGENCY: Some Problems and Implications
Edgar S. Furniss, Jr.
With commentary by Charles Burton Marshall, William V. O'Brien
Dr. Furniss addresses some of the problems posed by those means of warfare, comprehended in the term "counterinsurgency," which are appropriate to "wars of national liberation." 44 pp.

- #113. THE UNITED STATES IN ASIA: Evolution and Containment David Mozingo
This penetrating analysis of U.S. policy in Asia, and Communist China's response, by a former RAND Corporation Senior Analyst, is basic to an understanding of what is happening today in Southeast Asia—and what is likely to happen tomorrow. 24 pp.

- #114. MODERN WAR AND THE PURSUIT OF PEACE Theodore R. Weber
Dr. Weber discusses the present viability of traditional just war theory in light of trends in modern warfare, and offers new and challenging interpretations. 39 pp.

- #115. IS GRADUALISM DEAD? Reflections on Order, Change and Force Denis Goulet
In this introduction to the ethics of development, Denis Goulet relates his knowledge of the Third World to the problem of change as it is seen by those within the economically developed and developing nations. 34 pp.

SPECIAL STUDIES

- #201. THE MORAL DILEMMA OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS: Essays from Worldview William Clancy, Ed.
This first series of essays from Worldview brings together political scientists, theologians, military analysts and journalists in a single discussion. The only common criterion is the attempt to respond to the dilemma of nuclear weapons in a way that is "morally responsible and politically wise." 78 pp. $1.50

- #202. PEACE, THE CHURCHES AND THE BOMB James Finn, Ed.
In this study, the issues and problems raised by the preliminary statement on nuclear arms, discussed in the third session of Vatican Council II, are clarified and refined so that agreement, or disagreement, may be as precise as possible. 103 pp. $2.00

- #205. U.S. POLICY IN THE FAR EAST: Ideology, Religion and Superstition Jerald C. Brauer, Kenneth W. Thompson, Hans J. Morgenthau
In an attempt to separate the ephemeral from the more enduring values and the diverting from the useful concept, three distinguished members of the CRIA Board of Trustees discuss U.S. policy in the Far East. 64 pp. $2.00

- #206. AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY AND MORAL RHETORIC: The Example of Vietnam David Little
Dr. Little examines the tradition of "liberal disillusionment" as it shapes criticism about U.S. foreign policy generally and Vietnam in particular. 117 pp. $2.00

- #207. THE RIGHT TO KNOW, TO WITHHOLD AND TO LIE William J. Barnds
With commentary by Wilson Carey McWilliams, Daniel C. Maguire, Paul W. Blackstock
A former member of the C.I.A., Mr. Barnds considers the need for intelligence, current espionage practices, and the moral ambiguities posed by such activities in a democratic society. 87 pp. $2.00

- #208. ETHICS, VIOLENCE AND REVOLUTION Charles C. West
With commentary by Ernest W. Lefever, Monika Hellwig

Dr. West seeks to demonstrate how our perception of reality, as influenced by religious concepts, determines our attitude toward any particular revolutionary ethos. 72 pp. $2.00

- #209. THE OBLIGATION TO DISOBEY: Conscience and the Law Mulford Q. Sibley
Is the law to be obeyed in all circumstances, or is there sometimes an obligation to challenge and disobey the law? Dr. Sibley examines this question of immediate importance in legal, philosophic and moral terms. 119 pp. $2.00.

- #210. "STORY" IN POLITICS Michael Novak
With commentary by Tran Van Dinh, David Little, Daniel C. Maguire, Theodore R. Weber
Dr. Novak offers a critique of politics based on the way Americans misperceive their own cultural first principles and misjudge the real situations with which they must deal. His example is Vietnam. 120 pp. $2.00

- #211. IS AMERICA BECOMING MILITARIZED? Charles Wolf, Jr., Roger Fisher, Alan Geyer
One aspect of our foreign policy that has elicited deep concern in other countries as well as our own is the role of the military. From three strikingly different yet authoritative viewpoints, the authors examine and discourse on the many sides of this pressing question. 68 pp. $2.00

- #212. PUBLIC POLICY AND THE EXPERT: Ethical Problems of the Witness David D. McCracken
With commentary by Bruce Arden, Victor C. Ferkiss, Roger L. Shinn
Are the complexities of modern technology incompatible with the democratic process? What are the problems an expert must cope with in giving testimony? Mr. McCracken, a computer expert, writes from personal experience and professional knowledge. 128 pp. $2.00

- #213. MILITARY HONOR AFTER MYLAI
Wilson Carey McWilliams
 With commentary by Josiah Bunting,
 David Little, William V. O'Brien

Dr. McWilliams discusses the philosophic and political assumptions underlying the tragedy at Mylai and suggests how citizens—and soldiers as citizens—have a responsibility in shaping military policy and conferring honor. 72 pp. $2.00

...AND ANNOUNCING

- #214. THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS KALEIDOSCOPE
William J. Barnds
 With commentary by John W. Holmes,
 Richard J. Neuhaus

How does the conduct of foreign affairs affect the domestic situation of the U.S.? Conversely, how does what is happening in the States affect what our government does abroad? In the context of the sixties, of Camelot, of Watergate and the projected future, William Barnds examines these perennial questions. John Holmes and Richard Neuhaus offer comments and divergent opinions.

109 pp. $2.00

... and, of course

WORLDVIEW

CRIA's monthly journal of opinion.

A continuing examination of current international developments in light of the complex relationship between religious values and political problems.

Single copy $1.00

12 monthly issues $10.00

(a saving of $2.00 over the newsstand price)

IMPORTANT — PLEASE NOTE

Bulk orders of all publications are priced as follows: From one to nine copies of a particular publication, single price as shown; from ten to 19 copies, 10% discount; 20 copies and over, 20% discount.

Orders must be accompanied by payment; CRIA will absorb handling and postage costs. All orders will be shipped fourth class unless otherwise specified. Postage other than fourth class must be paid by purchaser.

Since CRIA is a nonprofit organization, its publications program is maintained as a public service and publications are priced well below cost. Therefore, we cannot accept return of unused materials for credit or refund. This does not apply, of course, to materials received in damaged condition or sent in error.

To order, use envelope bound in this issue.

CONSULTATION STUDIES

- #301. PEOPLE/PROFITS: The Ethics
 of Investment Charles W. Powers, Ed.

Based on an intensive, three-day discussion among leading businessmen, lawyers, labor leaders, clergy, foundation executives and academics, this book probes deeply into one of the most troublesome and disturbing questions facing the business community and all of society today: What is the extent of stockholder responsibility—and its limits? And what are the special implications of this question within the context of the multinational corporation?

225 pp. $2.95

To: Order Dept., CRIA, 170 East 64th Street, New York, N.Y. 10021

Please send me the publications listed by number below:

Quantity	#	Cost	Quantity	#	Cost
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____

Please enter my subscription to WORLDVIEW

($10 a year—a saving of $2 over the newsstand price)

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

My check in the amount of $_____ is enclosed

V
1
7
/
6

J
E

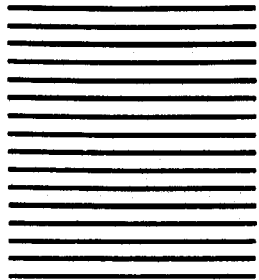

7
4
UMI

B U S I N E S S R E P L Y M A I L
NO POSTAGE STAMP NECESSARY IF MAILED IN THE UNITED STATES

POSTAGE WILL BE PAID BY:

COUNCIL ON RELIGION AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
170 E. 64TH STREET
NEW YORK, N. Y. 10021

FIRST CLASS
PERMIT NO. 27806
NEW YORK, N.Y. 10021

□ #302. THE MULTINATIONAL CORPORATION
AND SOCIAL POLICY

Special Reference to General Motors
in South Africa

Edited by Richard A. Jackson

Participants in the discussion

Raymond Bauer
Harvard Business School

W. Howard Chase
Vice President
American Can Company

Anthony M. Conrole
Administrative Assistant to
Vice President Douglas
Fraser
United Auto Workers

J. Howard Craven
Senior Vice President
Federal Reserve Bank
(now Senior Vice President and Economist, Union Bank)

Herbert H. Dow
Secretary
Dow Chemical Company

L. Lincoln Eldredge
Department of Theological Ethics
Andover Newton Theological School

Elliott M. Estes
Executive Vice President
General Motors Corporation

Stephen B. Farber
Assistant to the President
Harvard University

Kenneth P. Finnerud
The Rockefeller Foundation

Horace E. Gale
Treasurer
Department of Finance
American Baptist Home
Mission Societies

Byron E. Grant
General Manager
Braden Copper Company
(now Chairman, Peabody Coal Company)

Thomas A. Guith
General Motors Corporation

Jon P. Gunnemann
Department of Religious Studies
Pennsylvania State University

Terrance Hanold
Chairman, Executive Committee
The Pillsbury Company

Kirk O. Hanson
President
National Affiliation of Concerned Business
Students

Robert M. James
Director, Corporate Planning
Xerox Corporation

Charles M. Judd
President
Breneman, Inc.

James E. Lee
Executive Vice President
Gulf Oil Corporation
(now President)

W. Putnam Livingston
Bankers Trust Company (ret.)

Bevis Longstreth
Debevoise, Plimpton, Lyons
& Gates

Philip A. Loomis
Securities and Exchange
Commission

A. William Loos
President, CRIA

Charles L. Marburg
Chairman, CRIA Subcommittee
on Investment Policy

Donald F. McHenry
Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

Philip W. Moore
Project on Corporate Responsibility
(now in private law practice)

Roger F. Murray
Graduate School of Business
Columbia University

Robert T. O'Connell
General Motors Corporation

Robert S. Potter, Esq.
Partner
Patterson, Belknap & Webb

Charles W. Powers
Department of Social Ethics
Yale Divinity School

Martin Prochnik
Special Assistant to the Secretary
Department of the Interior

Patricia Cayo Sexton
Sociology Department
New York University

Michael P. Sloan
Special Assistant to the President
CRIA

Richard B. Smith, Esq.
Davis, Polk & Wardwell

Timothy Smith
Staff Director
Interfaith Committee on Social Criteria and Investment
also representing the
Corporate Information
Center
National Council of Churches

Robert G. Walker
former Economic Adviser
U.S. Embassy
Santiago, Chile

Robert W. Worcester
Vice President
Federal Reserve Bank

Published in cooperation with Praeger publishers, The Multinational Corporation and Social Policy is the second volume in a series developed by CRIA. The entire series will explore different and shifting facets of the social and corporate responsibilities of the multinational corporations

Several years ago CRIA began to study its portfolio, which contains securities of international corporations, from a moral perspective. Discussions attending its social investment concerns resulted in the conviction that CRIA should and could further the important and difficult discussion on the ethics of investment by organizing a seminar. Out of this first seminar came the book People/Profits: The Ethics of Investment. The current volume is the result of a second such seminar. These two seminars in turn have helped CRIA to embark on a full-scale Corporate Consultation Program, which concerns itself with the social responsibility of multinational corporations.

The volume not only contains prepared addresses but intense, sometimes witty and always informed, discussion. In the discussions, not surprisingly, different interests find expression in sharply contending positions. The single point of total agreement is that the issues are real, that they are not subject to simplistic resolution, and that they are worthy of extended analysis and further discussion.

TO ORDER: Paperback—Use bound in envelope and remit $2.95 for each copy to CRIA
Hardcover—Remit $11.00 for each copy to Praeger Special Studies
111 Fourth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10003

Council on Religion and International Affairs

170 EAST 64th STREET
NEW YORK, N.Y. 10021

WORLDVIEW

WILLY BRANDT OF GERMANY

ZIONISM, JUDAISM & THE STATE OF ISRAEL

THE FRENCH CONVERSION

BEYOND THE COLD WAR CHESSBOARD

A PLACE CALLED FREEDOM

A SUBVERSIVE AGENT FROM COLOMBIA

THE HOPE OF LIBERATION

CONSERVATIVE CHRISTIAN RADICALISM

THE MYTH OF THE CITIZEN-SOLDIER

CRIMES & PUNISHMENTS:
THE CASE OF VALERY PANOV

MORE EQUALITY?

INTRODUCING THE WORLDVIEW GRAY PAPER

GÜNTHER GILLESSEN

ROBERT GORDIS

SERVAN-SCHREIBER
ON THE BALANCE OF POWER

JOHN W. HOLMES

JOHN C. RAINES

DENIS GOULET

GUSTAVO GUTIERREZ

JIM WALLIS

MICHAEL IRISH

MARGARET KRY & LILLIAN AFRICANO

ROBERT LEKACHMAN

COMING

Do We Need Gerry Ford?

William V. Shannon

A New Balance of Terror

Robert C. Johanson

Vassilis Vassilikos

Stephen Rousseas

Muslim-Jewish Relations

John A. Miles, Jr.

