prescribing vitamins as potent therapeutic agents ?

Vitamins of the B complex and C in doses far exceeding those generally recommended as supplements have actions apparently unrelated to their normal physiological role. Confusional states due to alcohol, drugs, stress and "senility"; diabetic neuropathy; drug addiction and withdrawal syndromes and some forms of depression, often respond dramatically to Parentrovite – an injectable preparation – or Orovite – an oral preparation. These preparations are only two of the many vitamin specialities produced by Vitamins Limited. The Company has been conducting research into, and development of, vitamins for more than 40 years and is now the acknowledged leader in this field. As a result, Vitamins Limited offer an unrivalled range of preparations covering a wide variety of indications.
