New Launch in 2016

BJHS Themes

Published for the British Society for the History of Science

A new peer-reviewed, open access, thematic journal for the history of science

Editor

Jon Agar, University College London, UK

BJHS Themes is a collaborative venture between the British Society for the History of Science and Cambridge University Press aimed at establishing the first fully open access journal for the history of science community. It aims to publish open access, high-quality, scholarly, engaging collections of history of science papers, which address provocative themes, and which will be free for readers and offer no financial barrier to publication for authors. Like its sister publication, British Journal for the History of Science, BJHS Themes is a journal of the British Society for the History of Science, a major learned society for its subject.

The 1st volume will be 'Intersections: Science and Technology in Twentieth Century China and India', a focus on a history of science and technology in China and India, which will be convened by historians Jahnvi Phalkey and Tong Lam. It will be published in early 2016.

Arabic Sciences and Philosophy

A Historical Journal

Executive Editor

Roshdi Rashed, CNRS, Paris, France & University of Tokyo, Japan

Managing Editor

Ahmed Hasnaoui, CNRS, Paris, France

Arabic Sciences and Philosophy (ASP) is an international journal devoted to the Arabic sciences, mathematics and philosophy in the world of Islam between the eighth and eighteenth centuries, in a cross-cultural context. In 2009, the journal extended its scope to include important papers on scientific modernization from the nineteenth century in the Islamic world. Together with original studies on the history of all these fields, ASP also offers work on the inter-relations between Arabic and Greek, Indian, Chinese, Latin, Byzantine, Syriac and Hebrew sciences and philosophy. Casting new light on the growth of these disciplines, as well as on the social and ideological context in which this growth took place, ASP is essential reading for those interested in these areas.

British Journal for the History of Science

Published for the British Society for the History of Science

Editor

Charlotte Sleigh, University of Kent, UK

This leading international journal publishes scholarly papers and review articles on all aspects of the history of science. History of science is interpreted widely to include medicine, technology and social studies of science. BJHS papers make important and lively contributions to scholarship and the journal has been an essential library resource for more than thirty years. It is also used extensively by historians and scholars in related fields. A substantial book review section is a central feature. There are four issues a year, comprising an annual volume of over 600 pages.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

Contributions of about 10,000 words should be submitted by email to the editorial office with a message that includes your name, telephone number, and email address. Submissions should be sent as an attachment in the format .doc or .docx to <sic@post.tau.ac.il>. The editors require that the article be introduced by a paragraph of about 150 words that presents its argument.

The journal follows the author-date reference system that is generally used in the social and natural sciences. 'Documentation 2 Author-Date Citations and Reference Lists' of the Chicago Manual of Style and a back issue of the journal should be used as guides. More detailed instructions for contributors and specific guidelines (e. g. for transliteration from Russian or Hebrew) are available from <http://journals.cambridge.org/action/displayJournal?jid=SIC>. Unusual alphabets, special characters, mathematical and chemical formulas, and all diacritical marks should be clearly indicated. Articles may be illustrated by a small number of figures in black and white, formatted in TIFF, with a minimum resolution of 300 dpi for halftones and 600 dpi for line drawings. For further information, contact the editorial office.
