ROUND ABOUT INDUSTRIAL BRITAIN, 1830-1860

By C. R. Fay

A lively and unusual tour of industrial Britain set in the heart of the stream of industrial invention. This visit to shipyards, mines, and factories provides a peep at conditions there and the colourful figures of the time. Based on the 1950 lectures at the University of Toronto. $5.50

BETWEEN THE RED AND THE ROCKIES

By Grant MacEwan

Drama, colour, and humour highlight this story of the development of wheat-growing and cattle-ranching in the West, when agriculture took over a fur-traders' empire in one generation. Burns the cattle king, Sapiro, prophet of the wheat pools, and Hatfield the rainmaker are some of the colourful figures in the pageant. With maps and drawings. $3.50

CHANGING CONCEPTS OF TIME

By Harold A. Innis

Professor Innis calls attention to the depredations of "the jackals of communication systems" upon such varied features of our world as modern channels of knowledge, the practice of law, political systems, and the relations between Great Britain, the United States, and Canada. $2.50

DEMOCRACY IN THE DOMINIONS

By Alexander Brady

A revised and enlarged edition (1952) of this noted study of the nature and development of democratic institutions in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. This edition analyses more fully the broader and comparative aspects of democracy in the Dominions and assesses the contemporary threats to democracy in the whole western world. $6.50

CANADA, THE NORTH ATLANTIC COMMUNITY, AND NATO

The first paper, by K. W. Taylor, deals with the economic aspects of the idea of the North Atlantic Community and Canada's position and role in it. The second, by J. A. Corry, assesses the domestic political implications of Canadian membership in NATO. 50 cents

COMMON SENSE ABOUT INFLATION

By H. F. Angus

Professor Angus proposes the use of the price index to guard the pensioner, annuitant, and holder of small life insurance policies designed for the protection of dependents from the hardships inflicted through inflation. 35 cents
