

Journal Seeks Ethical Papers

For a special issue on "Ethics, Values, and Human Rights: 1984," The Journal of Applied Behavioral Science welcomes papers or proposals for papers on moral aspects of programs or policies oriented towards meeting such basic human needs as food, health, shelter, energy, education (literacy), and peace in a nuclear age, or those directed at advancing civil or political liberties. A cross-national perspective is encouraged. Completed manuscripts must be in the hands of the special issue editors by October 31, 1983. Contact one of the following special issue editors: Gideon Sjöberg, Department of Sociology, The University of Texas at Austin, Austin, Texas 78712; Ted R. Vaughan, Department of Sociology, University of Missouri-Columbia, Columbia, Missouri 53201; Andree F. Sjöberg, Department of Oriental and African Languages, The University of Texas at Austin, Austin, Texas 78712. □

Announcements

Fishel and Hammond Edit New Journal

The first issue of the newly-named journal Congress & the Presidency has replaced the United States Capital Historical Society's Congressional Studies and will henceforth be published jointly by The American University's Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies and the Capitol Historical Society. Editorial focus has been expanded to include scholarly articles, research notes, review articles, and book reviews on the presidency, Congress, the interactions between these two institutions, and national policy-making in general. All articles and research notes are refereed by outside scholars and experts as well as by the editors.

The new editors are Jeff Fishel and Susan Webb Hammond of American University. The new review and book editor is Roger H. Davidson, senior specialist in American government at the Congressional Research Service. The editors are anxious to build a back-log of articles and scholars and others are encouraged to submit their research to the editors and to contact Dr. Davidson or the editors with suggestions about potential review essays or comparative book reviews.

Three copies of any projected manuscript or research note, following the reference-in-text style, should be sent to the editors at the following address: Jeff Fishel and Susan Webb Hammond, Editors, Congress & the Presidency, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies, School of Government and Public Administration, The American University, Washington, D.C. 20016; (202) 686-2378.

Books for review and suggestions about review essays should be sent to: Roger H. Davidson, Review and Book Editor, Congress & the Presidency, Government Division, Congressional Research Service, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540; (202) 287-8634.

The new journal urgently needs to expand its subscription base. Interested individuals are encouraged to subscribe, and to request that their libraries do the same. Subscription rates for 1981-82 are: $10 for individuals; $12 for institutions. The journal is published twice each year in winter and summer editions. Inquiries should be directed to the editors at the above address and telephone number. □

State Associations Elect New Officers

FLORIDA. The officers for the Florida Political Science Association are: President, Steven DeLue, Department of Political Science, University of North Florida, Jacksonville; First Vice President, Douglas St. Angelo, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee; and 2nd Vice President, Ruth McQown, Associate Dean, University of Florida, 2121 GPA, Gainesville.

Ellen F. Paul and William O. Reichert of Bowling Green State University are helping staff the Social Philosophy and Policy Center at Bowling Green.

ARKANSAS. The ninth annual meeting of the Arkansas Political Science Association was held on February 26 and 27 at Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Officers for the 1982-83 year are: President, James Willis, Southern Arkansas University; Vice-President, Norman Hodges, Jr., University of Arkansas, Fayetteville; and Secretary-Treasurer, Walter Nunn, State Auditor's Office. □

African Marxist Journal Established

The Journal of African Marxists is a new, politically independent, self-financed publication which aims to: (1) provide a forum for the exposition of the fundamentals of Marxism in the conditions of Africa; (2) encourage thorough going analysis of the problems of development in Africa from a Marxist perspective; (3) discuss the various versions of Socialism current in Africa and subject them to scientific and constructive criticism; (4) facilitate the emergence of a systematic and coherent body Marxist thought illuminating conditions in Africa.

Further information from: Strike Mkandla, Chairman, London Local Committee, Journal of African Marxists, 57 Caledonian Road, London N1 9DN. □

Society for Greek Political Thought

The American Chapter of the Society for Greek Political Thought has announced that dues for the 1982-83 academic year will be $7.50. The Society, which now includes more than 300 academics and scholars from around the world, provides a convenient organization through which individuals in several disciplines may contact others interested in similar aspects of classical Greek political thought, philosophy, history, literature, and culture. The society maintains a flexible approach to the subject, allowing thereby a maximum of possible interconnections among various interpretations and approaches to classical Greek issues and the relationship between classical and modern concerns. Membership dues include a subscription to Polis, published twice yearly; discount purchasing of Society publications; and paper, panel, and lecture sponsorships.

New memberships are invited. Dues may be forwarded by check made out to Polis in care of Kent F. Moors, Coordinator, American Chapter, Society for Greek Political Thought, Department of Political Science, Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15282. □

Heritage Foundation Publishes Booklet

Heritage Foundation has just published a booklet of three lectures, titled Three Myths. The three lectures are "The Myth of American Fascism" by Arnold Beichman, "The Myth of Social Conditioning" by Kenneth Minogue, and "The Myth of Social Justice" by Antonio Martino. □

Policy Organization Announces Symposia

The Policy Studies Organization has 16 scheduled symposia for 1982-83 and

Susan Webb Hammond of American University, Roger H. Davidson of Congressional Research Service and Jeff Fishel of American University are editing the journal Congress and the Presidency. Davidson is book review editor and Hammond and Fishel serve as co-editors.

1983-84 which will be published in the Policy Studies Journal of the Policy Studies Review. Anyone having a manuscript relevant to the symposia listed below is welcome to submit his or her ideas to the editors listed. Drafted articles that do not fit the themes below can be sent as possible non-symposium articles to Thomas Dye, Editor-in-Chief, Policy Studies Journal, Policy Science Program, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida 32306, or to Dennis Palumbo, Editor-in-Chief, Policy Studies Review, Center for Public Affairs, University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas 66045.

Policy Studies Journal*
Volume 11 (1982-83)

1. Cross-National Environmental Protection, Paul Downing, Florida State University.
2. Personnel Policy, David Rosenbloom, Maxwell School, Syracuse University.
3. Interest Groups and Public Policy, David Linowes, University of Illinois; and Harmon Zeigler, University of Oregon.
4. Policy toward Public-Private Relations, Dennis Thompson, Brigham Young University.

Policy Studies Journal*
Volume 12 (1983-84)

1. Distributional Impact of Public Policies, Kent Portney, Tufts University; and Sheldon Danziger, University of Wisconsin.
2. Policy Analysis for Local Government, Terry Busson, Eastern Kentucky University; and Philip Coulter, University of Alabama.
3. Land Use Policy, Michael Bernard, Lincoln Institute of Land Policy; and Mark Schneider, SUNY-Stony Brook.
4. Productivity and Public Pol, Rita Mae Kelly, Rutgers University.

Policy Studies Review*
Volume 2 (1982-83)

1. Rural Policy Problems, Don Hadwiger, Iowa State University; and William Browne, Central Michigan University.

2. Criminal Corrections Policy, Jameson Doig, Princeton University.
3. Consumer Policy, Mark Nadel, Battelle Institute, Washington, D.C.
4. Economic Revitalization, Terry Buss, Youngstown State University; Steve Redburn, Policy Analysis, HUD; and Larry Ledebur, Urban Institute, Washington, D.C.

Policy Studies Review*
Volume 3 (1983-84)

1. Urban Policy Problems, Mark Rosenbraub, University of Texas at Arlington.
2. Federalism and Public Policy, Dan Elazar, Temple University; and Stephen Schechter, Russell Sage College.
3. Citizen Involvement in Public Policy, Jack DeSario, Case Western Reserve University; and Stuart Langton, Tufts University.
4. Arts and Public Policy, Robert Krone, University of Southern California.

The Policy Studies Organization now also has many unscheduled symposia that are in the process of being developed. They will be scheduled for a definite issue of the Policy Studies Journal or the Policy Studies Review as soon as arrangements have been completed for funding, editors, and procedures. Ideas are especially welcome concerning funding sources, potential contributors, and innovative procedures. Some of those unscheduled symposium topics and tentative editors are alphabetically as follows:

1. Aging and Public Policy, Neil Cutler, University of Southern California; and Laura Olson, Lehigh University.
2. Biomedical Policy, Robert Blank, University of Idaho; and John Ostheimer, North Arizona University.
3. Communications Policy, Jarol Manheim, Virginia Tech; and Dan Radell, Ithaca College.
4. Cross-National Industrial Policy, Terry Buss, Youngstown State University; and Steve Redburn, Policy Analysis, HUD.
5. Drug and Alcohol Policy, Jean Smith, NIMH.
6. Energy Supply and Demand, Helen Ingram, University of Arizona; and John Kim, University of Alaska.

7. Family Policy, Shirley Zimmerman, University of Minnesota.

8. Feeding the World, Don Hadwiger, Iowa State University; and William Browne, Central Michigan University.

9. The Handicapped and Public Policy, Maynard Reynolds and John Brandl, University of Minnesota.

10. Information Policy, Mark Tompkins, University of South Carolina.

11. Innovation Policy, David Roessner, Georgia Tech.

12. International Implications of Policy Studies, Thomas Stauffer, American Council on Education; and Thomas Snitch, American University.

13. Manpower Policy, Carl Van Horn, Rutgers University; and Michael Preston, University of Illinois.

14. Natural Disasters Policy, Douglas Nilson, University of Redlands.

15. Performance Measurement, Tom Cook, Research Triangle Institute, Durham, North Carolina.

16. Presidency and Public Policy, Stephen Shull, New Orleans University.

17. Small Business Policy, Dan Radell, Ithaca College.

Copies of single issues can be obtained at $3 apiece for personal or classroom adoption. Subscriptions covering at least eight issues can be obtained for $14 from the Policy Studies Organization, 361 Lincoln Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois 61801.

Journal Announces Prize Competition

In science today one principal mode of advancement of understanding is by means of generating valid solutions to specific problems. The editors of the Journal of Social and Biological Structures believe there is now both the need and the capability to produce effectively many models of human capacity which will be more sophisticated and more facilitated than those of the past. Today, an adequate model must rely upon both the social and the biological sciences.

The journal is offering an annual prize of $5,000 for the best paper submitted in competition concerning a model of this sort. Any paper entered in the competition must be original, submitted for publication in the Journal of Social and Biological Structures and not submitted to any other journal.

Most submissions will deal with preliminary or partial aspects of the author's model; however, the journal will not discourage more systematic attempts.

The first award will be for papers submitted in 1982-83. The award will be made annually for a minimum of five years.

Manuscripts should be addressed to either of the chief editors, Harvey Wheeler or James F. Danielli, or through an appropriate member of the editorial board.

UCLA Publishes Asian Roster

The "National Asian American Roster: 1982" is now available from the UCLA Asian American Studies Center.

The roster contains the names and addresses of Asian American elected officials, major political appointees, and judges at the federal, state, county, and city levels for more than 20 states of the United States, plus Guam, American Samoa, and Canada.

The publication also features a list of more than 80 major Asian American political party clubs, public employee groups, bar associations, and organizational representatives in Washington, D.C.

The roster is available for $5 from the UCLA Asian American Studies Center, 3232 Campbell Hall, Los Angeles, California 90024. California residents add 6 percent sales tax.

Loyola Publishes Discourses Series

The Department of Political Science of Loyola University, funded by grants from the Mellon Foundation, is publishing a series of occasional papers on political philosophy and policy analysis. Published twice annually, the Discourse papers were originally delivered as lectures before the university community. Copies of the following papers are still available for $1 apiece.

"Equality and Citizenship: The Rights of Man and the Rights of Women," by Wil-son Carey McWilliams; "Toward a Bilingual Democracy?" by Nathan Glazer; "For Good Government and the Happiness of Mankind: The Moral Majority and the American Founding," by Harry V. Jaffa; "Can America be Democratic? Participatory Critique of the Liberal Consensus," by Benjamin R. Barber; "Government and the Market: Economic Policy for the 1980s," by Robert Eisner; "Can the Existing Political Order Provide Social Justice in a Future Economy of Scarcity?" by Ira Katznelson; "Mis-guided Democracy: The Policy of Free Lance Politics," by Robert McClure; "Reviving an Inner City Community," by Ed Marciniak; "Human Rights: The Moral Foundation for American Foreign Policy," by Robert A. Goldwin; "The Future of Larger Older American Cities to the Year 2000," by Anthony Downs; "Politics, Crime and Society," by James Q. Wilson.

If you are interested in receiving issues of the Discourses, please indicate the titles and quantity desired and forward with a check or money order to: Secretary, Department of Political Science, Loyola University of Chicago, 820 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611. □

Ford Papers Opened for Research

Approximately half of the Ford presidential papers were opened to research April 5 at the Gerald R. Ford Library, the seventh presidential library operated by the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration. The newly opened materials include most of the White House Central Files, files of the Assistant to the President for Domestic Affairs and all Domestic Council staff, legislation case files, and Energy Resources Council records. Almost all presidential concerns except foreign affairs and defense issues are well represented in the open materials. The Ford audiovisual collection, congressional and vice presidential papers, and the records of the Council of Economic Advisers had been previously opened.

Beginning in late 1982, the Gerald R. Ford Foundation plans to award grants for research based substantially but not solely on Library holdings. Persons wishing further details should contact the Library director after July 1. All inquiries should be addressed to: Gerald R. Ford Library, 1000 Beal Avenue, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109. □

Bowling Green Opens Policy Center

Bowling Green State University announces the founding of its Social Philosophy and Policy Center (originally called the Institute for Social Philosophy and Policy). The Center, which has been established with grants of $331,000 from several private foundations, will employ the talents of philosophers and political scientists in order to investigate a variety of public policy questions. In this connection it will publish a monograph series, Studies in Social Philosophy and Policy, as well as a journal entitled Social Philosophy and Policy. Also, it will be holding several conferences each year. Two conferences are planned for the 1982-83 academic year, one on human rights, the other on distributive justice.

Two political scientists, Ellen Paul and William Reichert, are among five scholars staffing the center. □

Science Foundation Publishes Manual

A manual describing how University/Industry Cooperative Research Centers work and how to start one has been published by the National Science Foundation's Division of Industrial Science and Technological Innovation.

The centers are university-based, typically interdisciplinary, programs of research supported jointly by a number of companies. The program stimulates industrial support of university research through the establishment of centers that create long-term collaboration between the university and industry in research areas of mutual interest. Research programs are co-funded by groups of industrial firms in areas that are compatible with university research objectives and also responsive to industry needs.

Six Industry/University Cooperative Centers are now operating; one already is self-sufficient.

Copies of the manual may be obtained free from Louis G. Tournazky, Division of Industrial Science and Technological Innovation, National Science Foundation, 1800 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20550. □

Western Association Elects Peter Lupsha

Peter Lupsha of the University of New Mexico has been elected vice-president and president-elect of the Western Political Science Association.

"I believe in the Western Political Science Association and the diversity and eclecticism of the various approaches and perspectives represented by the scholarship and activity of its members," Lupsha said in a statement to Western members prior to the election.

He has served on the Editorial Board of the Western Political Quarterly and on the Executive Council of the Association from 1979 through 1981. He has also been active at Western meetings. "As a result of these activities and experiences, I believe I am familiar with many of the working aspects of the Association and can serve the needs of the membership in these areas," Lupsha said.

Lupsha received his Ph.D. from Stanford University in 1967, taught at Yale University for five years and then came to the University of Mexico. The vice-president of the Western Association is also program chair for the 1983 Western meeting, which will be held in Seattle, March 24-26. □

NEH Grants Still Available

It seems that the bad news about Reagan's proposed cuts has travelled much more quickly than the good news about the victories the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) has won this year. Although this year's NEH budget is only $20 million less than last year's, people seem to be under the impression that it is impossible to get an NEH grant anymore. With the exception of a few programs which have been discontinued, this is most definitely not the case. □

Cox Finishes Book on Election Data

The Institute of Public Administration, Department of Political Science at Indiana University, has published The Representative Vote in the Twentieth Century by Edward Franklin Cox. This volume, which extends and completes a project that resulted in Cox's State and National Voting in Federal Elections, 1910-1970, provides Congressional election data between 1900 and 1978. This new volume, 617 pages in length, gives election data for all candidates of all parties for all elections, both regular and special, to the House of Representatives. The data are broken down by district, with special care given to redistricting. Copies are available from the Institute of Public Administration, Department of Political Science, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana 47405 for $14 prepaid. Make checks payable to Indiana University. □

Grants Available for Ukrainian Scholars

Grants are available from the Shevchenko Scientific Society. Applicants are scholars who are interested in Ukrainian Studies, in area of social studies and humanities.

Applicants are requested to submit a concise description of their research project, a curriculum vitae, and two supporting letters from qualified individuals.

Especially young scholars are urged to apply by December 1 and June 1 to: Shevchenko Scientific Society, Research and Grants Committee, 302-304 W. 13th Street, New York, New York 10014.

There are a number of sources available for scholars interested in Ukrainian studies. Here is a list of associations and publishing houses:

Association for the Study of Nationalities (USSR and Eastern Europe), c/o Stefan Horak, Department of History, Eastern Illinois University, 216 D Coleman Hall, Charleston, Illinois 61920.

Smoloskyp Publishing House, P.O. Box 60666-Patterson Station, Baltimore, Maryland 21231.

Ukrainian Quarterly, 202 Second Avenue, New York, New York 10003.

Ukrainian Academic Press, Libraries Unlimited, P.O. Box 263, Littleton, Colorado 80120.

Cataract Press, P.O. Box 4875, Chicago, Illinois 60680.

News From Ukraine, P.O. Box 142M22, ljamsville, Maryland 21754.

"Samizdat," P.O. Box 6128, San Mateo, California 94403.

"Svoboda," Jersey City, New Jersey.

The Soviet Review (a quarterly journal of translations), M.E. Sharpe, Inc., 901 N. Broadway, White Plains, New York 10603.

Slavic & Soviet Series, Russian and East

European Research Center, Tel Aviv University, Ramat Aviv, Israel.

Shevchenko Scientific Society, 302-304 West 13th Street, New York, New York 10014.

Ukrainian Academy of Arts & Sciences in U.S., 206 West 100 Street, New York, New York 10025.

Harvard University, Ukrainian Institute, 1581-83 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies, Slavic Department, University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada M5s1A1.

Canadian Slavonic Papers, 256 Peterson Hall, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada K155B6.

Digest of Soviet Ukrainian Press, Sucasnist, Karlsplatz 8/111, 8000 Munchen 2, West Germany.

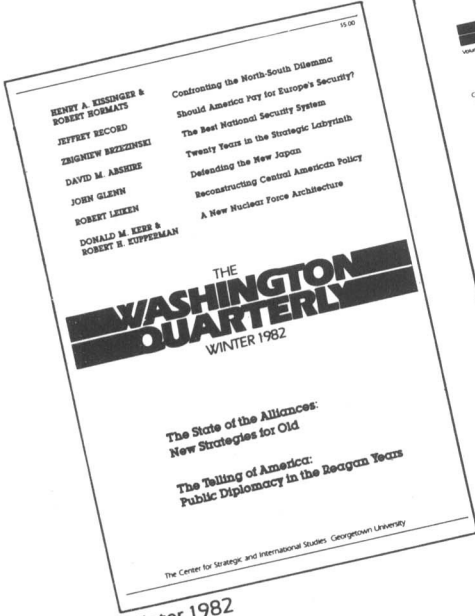

Ukrainische Freie University, Pinzenauer Strasse 15, 8000 Munchen 80, West Germany.

News From Ukraine, 6 Zoloti Vorota Street, Kiev, 2052601, Ukrainian SSR. □

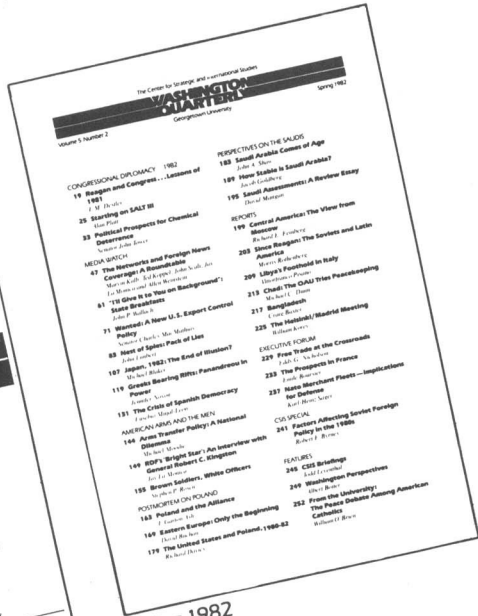

Seminar on Leadership Offered to Women

A Washington seminar on Women and Public Policy will be offered in January, 1983, under the auspices of the Public Leadership Education Network. The three-week program will be jointly sponsored by Goucher College and the National Women's Education Fund, members of PLEN. Participation is open to all undergraduates. The program from January 3-12 will provide students with the opportunity to meet and observe women in a wide range of leadership roles as well as familiarize themselves with the substance of major public policy issues and the policy-making process at the federal level. For further information and application, write Marianné Alexander, Goucher College, Towson, Maryland 21204. □

Seen the New WASHINGTON QUARTERLY?

Winter 1982

Spring 1982

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

Name _____ Apt. # _____
 Address _____ City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Enclosed $ _____

- Please bill me
 New Renewal

Mail to: The Washington Quarterly
 Transaction Department 7000
 Rutgers - The State University
 New Brunswick, NJ 08903

	Individuals	Institutions
One year	<input type="checkbox"/> $20	<input type="checkbox"/> $25
Two years	<input type="checkbox"/> $37	<input type="checkbox"/> $48
Three years	<input type="checkbox"/> $52	<input type="checkbox"/> $60

For 1st class domestic USA, add $11.00 per year. For delivery outside the USA, add $4.50 per year for surface postage or $20.00 per year for airmail postage.

