Manuscripts

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party. Articles should be submitted, together with a duplicate copy, to the editorial office. They should be typed in double spacing and, preferably, conform to the styling of The China Quarterly.

The China Quarterly is published by the Contemporary China Institute of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London University. The views expressed in articles are those of individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the Contemporary China Institute.

The tz'u or lyric reached its full maturity in China during the eleventh century and the first quarter of the twelfth. James J. Y. Liu's book is the first to deal systematically and critically with it. He does so by examining the work of six representative poets of the period.

China in Transition

Communist China is the subject of the January issue of The Political Quarterly. In the last few years so much has happened in China of profound interest and importance that the Editors decided to devote an entire issue of a collection of articles by acknowledged experts describing, analysing and interpreting recent events and current trends in the political, economic and social life of the world's largest nation.

Revolutionary Intellectuals or Managerial Modernisers?

by Derek J. Waller

The conflict which erupted in the Cultural Revolution, and what has happened since then.

Economic Trends and Policies by Christopher Howe

Recent trends in Chinese agriculture and industry.

Politics in Command by Jack Gray

The close relation in China between politics and economics both in theory and in practice.

Changing Social Ethics in Contemporary China by Derek Bryan

The new philosophy of Communist man which replaces the family as the focus of loyalty with the commune and working team.

Chinese Conceptions of their Rôle in the World

by Michael B. Yahuda

The part that China should play in international affairs.

Political Changes and their causes in China 1949-1972

by Michel Oksenberg

The forces which bring about changes in China and the framework within which they operate.

China's Education since The Cultural Revolution

by Dr. R. Machetzki

The motives which underlie the reforms which have been introduced in the Chinese system of education.
