Molecular and Biochemical Parasitology

Aims and Scope

The journal provides a medium for the rapid publication of investigations of the molecular biology and biochemistry of parasitic protozoa and helminths. The main subject areas covered are:

- (1) biochemical composition;
- (2) biochemistry of low molecular weight compounds;
- (3) structure, properties and function of macromolecules;
- (4) biosynthesis and degradation of macromolecules;
- (5) intermediary metabolism;
- (6) membrane structure and function, including transport;
- (7) regulation;
- (8) genetic aspects;
- (9) action of antiparasitic drugs;
- (10) biochemical aspects of host-parasite relationships.

Papers will only be accepted for publication if they fall within these areas, if they contain original work of high scientific quality and if they have been well written. There will be no page charges.

The Rockefeller Foundation Announces
Two International Programs

at the
BELLAGIO STUDY AND CONFERENCE CENTER
Bellagio (Como), Italy

International Conferences — small conferences or working groups focusing on topics or problems of international significance.

Scholars in Residence — an opportunity for scholars to work for approximately four weeks on individual projects.

The Foundation provides the facilities of the Center, located about 40 miles north of Milan, on a competitive basis to residents and conference organizers. It normally does not pay for related costs, such as transportation, of the participants in these two programs.
