

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

Failure to adhere to the guidelines below could result in significant delays in your article's publication.

- Articles should be submitted as Word files, not as PDFs. Although multiple word processing formats are supported by ScholarOne, we recommend saving your text documents in .doc or .docx format, if possible. The Journal will accept LaTeX files. If your paper includes symbols, be sure they are created with a Unicode font.
- Please include, in addition to your name and institutional affiliation, your e-mail address.
- Articles should be no more than 10,000 words (including footnotes and references) with pages numbered throughout consecutively.
- Articles must be accompanied by an abstract of up to 150 words.
- Articles must be accompanied by a list of keywords (up to five).
- Articles will be checked and copy-edited for journal style, US English spelling, and UK English punctuation. Unless the notes below suggest otherwise, please follow the Chicago Manual of Style.
- Footnotes should be used sparingly and, where possible, avoided altogether.

References

Contributors should use the author-date system ('Harvard system') with a list of works cited at the end of the article under the heading 'References'. Please use parenthetical in-text citations, not footnotes. The following style should be used:

In text:

(Allison 1983: 201)

In Allison (1983:201)

Please note that where a passage is cited reference to a page, or sequence of pages, should always be given.

Works cited should be set out in alphabetical and chronological order in the following format:

Allison, Henry E. (1983) Kant's Transcendental Idealism. New Haven: Yale University Press.

Korsgaard, Christine M. (1989a) 'Morality as freedom'. In Yirmiahu Yovel (ed.), Kant's Practical Philosophy Reconsidered (Dordrecht: Kluwer Academic Publishers), pp. 23-48.

Matthews, H. E. (1969) 'Strawson on transcendental idealism'. Philosophical Quarterly, 19, 204-20.

Tables and diagrams

Tables and diagrams should generally be included in the Word file. However, any complicated images or diagrams should as far as possible be submitted as high resolution tiff, jpeg, or eps files and their approximate position within the text should be indicated in the Word file. References in the text should take the form 'Table 1' for tables and 'Figure 1' for other forms of illustration.
