

Hollis, printmaker. Mr. Hackett as Falstaff. London: mid-19th century. Folger ART File H121 no.6 copy 3.

This print features American actor John Henry Hackett as Falstaff as he appears near the end of the play, dressed up as Herne the Hunter. Like many other 19th-century Shakespearean actors, Hackett made a career out of portraying a particular character: Hackett was well-known by both American and English audiences for his version of Falstaff. Hackett also published a book, Notes and Comments on Shakespeare, in 1863. (Encyclopedia Britannica, 12 (11th ed.) Cambridge University press, p. 794)
