

Rhead, Louis, artist. "Macbeth, Beware of Macduff, the Thane of Fife!" from Macbeth. [Not after 1918]. Folger ART Box R469 no.86 (size L)

This illustration by Louis Rhead was created for Tales from Shakespeare, by Charles and Mary Lamb (New York: Blue Ribbon Books, 1918). The Lambs' adaptation rendered Shakespeare's verse in prose, and eliminated language and scenes that they deemed would be inappropriate for children. This image marks the point in the narrative where the first spirit called by the witches "arose in the likeness of an armed head" (168).

From an original in the Folger Shakespeare Library
Licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License (CC BY-SA 4.0)