

Academic freedom is essential in the pursuit of scholarly truth and dissemination of knowledge. Submissions to all SOAS-owned journals are considered on their academic merits, irrespective of their topic. SOAS is opposed to any attempt to restrict access to our publications on the basis of their content.

Style Guide for Journal of African Law

The editors ask authors to observe the following guide on style in preparing their submissions.

Submission:

Article manuscripts should be submitted through the ScholarOne online submission and peer review system (<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jal>). If you experience technical difficulties, please contact the Editorial Office at jal@soas.ac.uk. An abstract of 100–150 words and five or six keywords should also be provided. All submissions should conform to the styling of the Journal of African Law. As soon as a manuscript is submitted, authors will receive a message acknowledging receipt. Research articles should be no longer than 12,000 words, including footnotes. "Recent developments" and "case notes" should not exceed 5,000 words (all inclusive).

We do not accept manuscripts submitted by a third party. All manuscripts must be submitted by the author(s) directly through the ScholarOne site. Submission to and publication in the Journal of African Law is free of charge, except where the author elects to publish Gold Open Access, in which case an article processing fee will be levied after acceptance.

Submission of a manuscript to JAL implies that it has not been submitted elsewhere nor published in any form. We allow a maximum of two submissions per 12-month period.

GENERAL

Abstracts and keywords

Please provide an abstract at the beginning of the article. It should be no more than 150 words in length, have no footnotes, be indented and be in Arial font, 10 pt. Please also provide five or six keywords. Please pay particular attention to the choice of the keywords (compound nouns and phrases are accepted).

Open access policies

Please visit Open Access Publishing at Cambridge for information on our open access policies, compliance with major funding bodies, and guidelines on depositing your manuscript in an institutional repository.

Anonymisation

All submitted manuscripts should be rendered anonymous and devoid of identifying information for the purposes of double-blind peer review. PLEASE NOTE: any submitted manuscript containing the name of the author(s), their affiliation details or any identifiable reference(s) to their previous work(s) in the references will automatically be unsubmitted or rejected by the Editorial Office

Conflicts of Interest declarations

- Authors will be asked to declare any Conflicts of Interest when they submit their work.
- Conflicts of Interest are situations that could be perceived to exert an undue influence on an author's presentation of their work. They may include, but are not limited to, financial, professional, contractual or personal relationships or situations.
- Conflicts of Interest do not necessarily mean that an author's work has been compromised. Authors should declare any real or perceived Conflicts of Interest in order to be transparent about the context of their work.
- Conflicts of Interest declarations should list all contributing authors.
- Example wording for a Conflicts of Interest declaration is as follows: "Conflicts of Interest: Author A is employed at company B. Author C owns shares in company D, is on the Board of company E and is a member of organisation F. Author G has received grants from company H." If no Conflicts of Interest exist, the declaration should state "Conflicts of Interest: none".

Copyright

The policy of the Journal of African Law is that authors (or in some cases their employers) retain copyright and grant SOAS, University of London a licence to publish their work. In the case of gold open access articles this is a non-exclusive licence. Authors must complete and return an author publishing agreement form as soon as their article has been accepted for publication; the journal is unable to publish the article without this. Please download the appropriate publishing agreement here.

For open access articles, the form also sets out the Creative Commons licence under which the article is made available to end users: a fundamental principle of open access is that content should not simply be accessible but should also be freely re-usable. Articles will be published under a Creative Commons Attribution license (CC-BY) by default. This means that the article is freely available to read, copy and redistribute, and can also be adapted (users can “remix, transform, and build upon” the work) for any commercial or non-commercial purpose, as long as proper attribution is given. Authors can, in the publishing agreement form, choose a different kind of Creative Commons license (including those prohibiting non-commercial and derivative use) if they prefer.

Professional titles

Please use lower case for professional titles.

M Smith, barrister, professor of law, and director of the Institute of Legal Wrangling.

When naming a judge, please indicate their rank in the standard manner but without full stops.

Bloggs, CJ, and Smith, CJF, both agreed that the law was unreasonable.

Line spacing

Present all submissions in one and a half spacing for text and single spacing for footnotes.

Headings and fonts

All headings should be in Arial font, preceded by a blank line and (except for heading 4) flush left.

Title: Bold, Capitalised Lower Case, Arial 12 Pt

HEADING 1: BOLD, UPPER CASE, ARIAL 10 PT

Heading 2: bold, lower case, Arial 10 pt

Heading 3: italics, not bold, lower case, Arial 10 pt

Heading 4 should be in italics, Arial 10 pt, indented and run on into the paragraph.

The main text and footnotes should be in a Roman font:

- Text in 10pt
- Indented quotations in 9pt
- Footnotes in 8pt

Paragraphs

The first line of the first paragraph after a title, heading or indented quotation should be flush left. Subsequent paragraphs should be indented. Please do not leave a blank line between paragraphs. All text should be fully justified.

Spelling

Use British English, but with “ize”, not “ise”, endings.

English language editing services

Authors, particularly those whose first language is not English, may wish to have their English-language manuscripts checked by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and any reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and / or translation, and suggest that authors contact as appropriate. Please see the Language Services page for more information.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author's own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Capitalization

Please use lower case for professional titles and generic terms such as government, director, minister, common law.

The titles of treaties, acts, agreements, declarations, resolutions, conventions, charters and protocols should be capitalized according to UK style and not italicized. The titles of White Papers and published reports should be in italics and capitalized.

Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women 1979.

Foreign words and phrases

Truly foreign words (except foreign language proper nouns) should be italicized and followed by a translation in square brackets. Please do not italicize words and abbreviations generally accepted in the English language (eg, inter alia, de facto, passim, ibid, ie etc). All other foreign phrases should be followed by a brief translation either in square brackets or in an explanatory footnote.

Abbreviations

No full stops for abbreviations (such as PhD, Mr, ie, UN, ibid, NWLR, JP) or for initials within names (eg, J Bloggs).

Article, chapter, section, ordinance, proclamation, paragraph etc should be in full and in lower case in the text, but abbreviated in footnotes to art, chap, sec, ord, proc, para etc. Abbreviated forms used in the text must be in full in the first instance, followed by the abbreviated form/acronym in brackets. Per cent to be written in full in text (without full stops); use % in footnotes.

Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property (TRIPS Agreement)

Quotations

Use double quotation marks, followed by single quotation marks within a quotation. Please use “smart” quotes, rather than straight. Quotations more than five lines long in text should be indented and presented with quotation marks. Do not use <ellipses> at the beginning or end of a quote. To indicate where words or phrases have been omitted from within a quotation, use “...”.

Colour figures

If you request colour figures in the printed version, you will be contacted by CCC-Rightslink who are acting on our behalf to collect Author Charges. Please follow their instructions in order to avoid any delay in the publication of your article.

Punctuation

Punctuation should be “outside” quotation marks (unless the punctuation is clearly part of the quotation) and footnote cues should come after punctuation.

- He stated that the “scheme would ‘bankrupt’ society”.³
- The authorities are prosecuting this “dictator”, not that one.
- Before he was arrested, he asked, “How will the government fund the construction of the new school?”

Numerals and dates

In the main body of text, numbers and ordinals from one to ten inclusive should be spelled out; after that use digits:

- One, two, three, ... ten, 11, 12
- First, second, ... tenth, 11th, 12th

Dates attached to legislation do not need to be preceded and followed by commas. Dates should be shown:

- 12 October 2006
- 1990s
- 21st century

Use the longer “n dash” to separate groups of digits for page numbers and dates, and abbreviate figures in the hundreds or thousands as appropriate:

- One - ten, 20–24, 125–28, 1923–25, 2345–401

Always use digits for footnotes, percentages and references to sections or pages of a document:

- 2 per cent, 6 %
- Page 7
- Section 2.1 of article 3 of the constitution

Footnotes

Footnotes, rather than endnotes, should be used. Use “above” and “below” to refer to other footnotes in the article; please do not use supra, op cit, loc cit, infra, etc.
